A Speech for Mellon.
Worrying 24,000,000.
Tasso and Tunney.
Trouble in Jerusalem.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright, 1928.)

SECRETARY MELLON announces he will make two speeches for Republicans in October. He might make one short and effective, as follows:

"This Republican administration found the United States Government in debt sixteen billions for Liberty loans. We have paid half of that. Give us a chance and we'll pay off the other half soon."

To please American business, Mr. Mellon should add to his speech:

"P. S.—I expect, D. V., to continue my work as Secretary of the Treasury after the fourth of March, 1929, although I ought to be giving attention to my own business."

MR. OZEL, of Newark, 68 years old, picked up a pinochle hand, looked at it twice, gazing at all the double suit of hearts, except one jack and one queen. Then he fell dead.

The great Newton, completing calculations verifying his immortal formula of gravitation, "Directly as the mass and inversely as the square of the distance," found his hands shaking so, that somebody else had to finish the calculations.

He didn't drop dead, fortunately. Men's interests are of different kinds.

AT Lorain, O., Miss Betty Heywood is in the hospital dangerously wounded. Police, alleged to have fired on a car in which she rode, are in jail. They thought there was bootleg whisky in the automobile.

Would it not be a good idea to make SURE about the bootleg whisky before shooting? Apart from the merits of prohibition, there is the fact that 24,000,000 automobiles are running in the United States. Must they all wonder which one will be shot up next?

GENE TUNNEY, retired heavyweight is to be married in Italy. The youth of our day will add, "And how!"

The civil ceremony will take place in the house where "burning Tasso loved," and wrote poetry. The civil ceremony will be performed by no less than the podesta of Sorrento, Duke Giovanni Moresca di Serracapribla della Salandra.

The religious ceremony will take place in the sacristy of the chapel of "Mary, Star of the Seas," a famous sanctuary.

Changing from fighting to literature, Tunney will feel at home in Sorrento. There never was a prize fight there, but Ibsen, Gorky and other modern celebrities have lived there and all the ghosts of classical antiquity haunt it.

PUBLIC anger, with threats of rioting in Jerusalem, marred Yom Kippur, most holy Jewish day.

At the Wailing Wall, where pious Jews gather on special occasions, a screen separating men from women, demanded by Jewish custom, was forcibly removed by police.

Jewish representatives and rabbis protested to the British high commissioner, cancelled a reception in honor of officers from three British warships and plan a protest to the League of Nations.

British authorities explain that Mohammedans, outnumbering Jews in the Holy Land 10 to 1, and objecting to the Jewish screen before the Wailing Wall, threatened to occupy all the space where devout Jews gather, and to stone Jewish pilgrims.

The screen was removed to prevent loss of life.

Ruling Jerusalem, considered a most difficult post in the days of Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, is not easy now, with Moslems so greatly outnumbering Jews.

A FEATURE of this campaign, interesting to politicians and misleading some of them, is increased registration of women.

In Baltimore more women registered than men. In New York female registration has increased enormously.

Republicans taking for granted that this registration of women is all due to Herbert Hoover's humanitarian services in the war, may be too optimistic.

Women of Catholic faith feel that Gov. Smith is opposed on account of his religion, and that it is their duty to register and vote in numbers greater than ever.

The extraordinary registration of women will not be explained until November.

A FIRST folio Shakespeare, about 13 inches long, 9 inches wide, and worth as much as a large farm in the Northwest, is coming from England. Many would go to see it that might not buy for two dollars, or read, a better edition of Shakespeare. Human curiosity is of different kinds.

3 MORE SEIZED IN RUM KILLING

DETECTIVE AMBUSHES BAND

Three more suspects in yesterday's gang killing in Penn avenue were arrested at noon today.

While members of the homicide squad were grilling the trio rounded up yesterday, City Detective William Harris was lying in wait for three men who left an automobile in an East End garage shortly after the slaying. The suspects claimed the machine this morning and fell into Harris' trap. Harris says they fled from Penn avenue, near Sixteenth street, after shooting Antonio Landolina, 25, of Mayflower street, and witnesses turned over a description of the car which was subsequently traced to the East End garage.

BLAME BOOTLEG FEUD

Landolina's death is believed to have been the result of a bootleg feud which has been raging among Italians in the Strip and East End for several months. Landolina's uncle, Nicasio Landolina, 74, retired merchant, was shot down while watering flowers in the yard of his home in Mayflower street. It is such killings and gang feuds that District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner has vowed he intends laying before the grand jury investigating crime in its connection with the city police department.

The awarding of concessions to the privileged men of the underworld has caused frequent shootings and murders in Pittsburgh within the last year. Most of the murders have been unsolved. In every case, the killings have been linked with previous ones. The county grand jury now is investigating the existence of concessions and protection offered to the privileged men.

OTHER ARRESTS

The three suspects arrested yesterday in connection with the slaying will face several witnesses. The witnesses have told police that five men and two automobiles figured in the slaying. Landolina was shot down by men who hid in an alley between two buildings before he had a chance to reach for a revolver he carried. Two of the men ran in Penn avenue and three others boarded the automobiles and sped across the Sixteenth Street Bridge to the North Side.

Police are holding Patsy Manague, 22, and Antonio Maso, 35, both of Carnegie. They were arrested near the scene of the crime and, according to police, both possessed revolvers which recently had been discharged.

Tracing the ownership of one of the automobiles police started a search for Mike Acquaro, 33 of 14 Mt. Oliver street. At the address, a saloon, they arrested William Young, 39, a bartender when they found liquor in the place. Acquaro was arrested in the South Side police station where he went to give bail for his bartender.

Manague, Maso and Acquaro were being held on suspicious person charges at detective headquarters last night. They will be grilled this morning when paraded before witnesses to the shooting. Young is held only on the liquor charge.

Critic Defied By Gardner

District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner voluntarily placed himself under fire today when he insisted that H. Rea Garber, county chairman of the Prohibition party, tell the graft-investigating grand jury why members of that party think he isn't fit to reveal any collusion that exists between the city's police and racketeers.

Gardner sent two county sleuths out to serve Garber with a subpena.

It was Garber who announced on Wednesday that the Prohibition party had adopted a resolution describing Gardner as a politician and, consequently, not in a position to conduct an impartial, non-political investigation of graft.

WINKLER OUT OF CITY

Another witness subpenaed today was James (Weiner) Clark, former partner in the Diamond Cafe, Graeme street. Sleuths were successful in serving Clark, but they still have on their hands the subpena for William Winkler Republican district chairman of the First Ward. They learned definitely today from his wife that Winkler was out of the city.

The District Attorney indicated today that he intended to spend

Man With $10,000 Kidnaped

RAHWAY, N. J., Sept. 28.—(AP.)—A mail pouch containing $10,000 in cash and other registered mail, the value of which is not yet known, was stolen when the 7.44 a. m. Pennsylvania Railroad train arrived in this city today. The money was from the Federal Reserve Bank in New York City and was for the Rahway banks.

Joseph Van Cline, Negro porter at the Pennsylvania Station, is missing. The mail pouch had been placed in his care.

He is believed to have been kidnaped by a group of three or four men who were seen to drive hurriedly away in an automobile from the vicinity of the station immediately after the train pulled out.

The robbery was so quietly and quickly done that the thieves made good their escape without attracting attention or providing any positive clues.

WIFE GETS LIFE TERM FOR SLAYING HUSBAND

WEBSTER SPRINGS, W. VA., Sept. 28.—(AP.)—Mrs. Anna L. McKenzie, 43, was sentenced to life imprisonment and Seymour Smith, 29, to 18 years in the penitentiary here yesterday for the killing of the woman's husband.

Coolidge Driving in Crash

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 28.—(AP.)—John Coolidge, son of the President, was driving Gov. John H. Trumbull's machine when it collided with a car driven by Wilfred Veno, professional hockey player, in this city yesterday morning, according to the report of the accident filed in the Fifth Police Precinct today by the officer who investigated the crash.

The report described Coolidge as the driver of "vehicle No. 2" and the explanation of the accident is that "vehicle No. 2 traveling south on Livingston street struck vehicle No. 1 going west on Lawrence street, in the right rear, causing Vehicle No. 1 to turn in the opposite direction and cause the damage."

Deputy Coroner James J. Corrigan today declined to say whether or not he would talk with young Coolidge or had already done so.

He also said that he was not sure there was any necessity of his investigating the case, but it is known that the state's attorney's photographer has been ordered to take pictures of the two machines involved in the crash.

First reports that Coolidge was absent from his desk in the general manager's office of the New Haven road this morning were found to be untrue, but it was reported that he had asked to be excused for the afternoon.

COOLIDGE SENDS DOCTOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Col. James F. Coupal, White House physician, left today for New Haven, Conn., to see if he could be of any help to the persons injured in the automobile accident yesterday morning in which John Coolidge, son of the Chief Executive, figured.

At the White House it was said that the President was anxious to have Dr. Coupal inform himself thoroughly of the conditions of the wounded and to co-operate with local physicians.

TWO OHIOANS INDICTED IN MOTOR CAR DEATHS

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 28.—The Columbiana county grand jury today returned manslaughter indictments against Robert Foster and Edward Garside, East Palestine motorists, in connection with the deaths of Russell Faulkner and F. W. Ferguson in automobile accidents.

STEWARDS' PICNIC RAIDED

Amid the jeers and hoots of more than a thousand picnickers, the dry forces of Administrator John D. Pennington raided the annual outing of the International Association of Stewards at Daniels' farm off the Three Degree highway, yesterday afternoon.

The agents confiscated 15 barrels of "good" beer, two quarts of whisky and arrested two bartenders. George Daniels, alleged proprietor of the farm, was placed under arrest. Daniels and the two bartenders were released on $1,000 bail.

The raid occurred when a half-dozen agents elbowed their way through the crowd at the bar and seized one barrel of beer. A test made by the agents revealed that the beer contained 4½ per cent alcohol. Those in charge of the picnic refused the tell the agents where the remainder of the beer was hidden, but after a search several barrels were located in a barn near the farm.

While loading their trucks the agents were targets for the hoots of the disappointed picnickers. Many threatened violence. The tires of the agents' car, two of which were spares, were sliced with a knife. A long delay followed when the agents' appeal for tire patches was refused by other drivers.

Two years ago a raid on the Stewards' outing failed when a test made by the raiders revealed that the beer was legal.

Embargo Put on Grapes

Shipment of grapes to Pittsburgh was put under embargo by the Pennsylvania Railroad today as record receipts filled the produce yards and business in that line became pressing.

With 271 cars of the products of California and Michigan vineyards on the tracks, the market was choked. The embargo, intended to correct this condition, probably will be maintained for several days. Commission merchants said receipts were higher than for any previous year, at this season.

The muscats, from which time and proper treatment will produce a deceptively mild orange fluid, comprised about half of the receipts. Zinfandels, alicantes and carignans, with a few cars of Concords, made up the rest.

There was also a car or two of tokays and malagas, which are "table grapes."

News Item Gets Job For Man

John J. O'Donnell, who, jobless and with three small children to care for, has been living in poverty on a third floor of a rooming house at 6342 Station street, has found a job.

It was offered him through the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph which yesterday made known O'Donnell's plight, by the superintendent of the Commonwealth Building today—and tonight O'Donnell will start work at his trade as a painter.

In the meantime charity organizations are endeavoring to find a temporary home for the children—the sad-eyed Edward, 6; the bashful Leanna, 4, and the baby brother, Joseph, 16 months.

The children were found by police, ill and suffering from hunger, in their one-room, third-floor home several days ago. The father was vainly striving to give them the care they needed.

Their mother, so the father stated, deserted them last Saturday, taking John J., Jr., 2, with her.

O'Donnell's plans for the future are indefinite. Aside from preparing to go to work tonight, he does not know what will become of the children. He would like to keep them with him, he says.

GENE'S NAME, OFFER TO PAY, ENDS CLASH IN FRANCE

International News Service.

JUAN LES PINS, France, Sept. 28.—Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, who has been making a tour of Southern France by foot and motor car, arrived in this town with a bang last night. Driving a 40-horsepower motor car at 60 miles an hour, he whizzed up in front of the Hotel De Provence, crashing into another automobile that was just leaving the hotel courtyard.

Both cars were badly damaged, but neither Tunney nor the driver of the other automobile was injured.

The irate owner of the other motor car leaped from his machine and began gesticulating and emitting French at an amazing rate of speed. Tunney, not understanding French, stood mutely by while a large crowd began to gather. No one in the crowd recognized the American ex-pugilist. After 15 minutes Tunney's patience gave way and he bawled out:

"Never mind all that. I am Gene Tunney. How much will it cost me?"

That promptly ended all argument.

Tunney cut short his tour of Southern France to go to Naples to meet his fiancee, Miss Josephine ("Polly") Lauder, who is due here on the Italian liner Saturnia in a day or two.

LOWER BUS FARE FIGHT PRAISED

More readers have written in praise of The Sun-Telegraph's fight for lower bus fares and its survey of bus operations in other cities.

Arthur D. Wilson, Commander of the American Legion Post at Imperial, Pa., in writing of the Pittsburgh Railways Company's efforts to block the extension of an independent bus line from Ingram into the city says:

"I wish to express my appreciation of your article in Saturday's Sun-Telegraph concerning the bus monopoly that exists in Pittsburgh. I have read many of your articles but the one on Saturday touched on a subject with which I am familiar.

"The development of all the territory between Imperial and Pittsburgh is dependent upon cheap and efficient transportation. Such transportation is now hindered by The Pittsburgh Railways Company.

"Sauers Brothers operate swift and modern buses and the trip to Ingram is easily made. There you have to wait in all kinds of weather. The Railways Company provides no waiting room and does not have the cars run to fit the bus schedule.

"I need not give examples of the inconvenience the transfer from buses to street cars causes. One hundred witnesses before the Public Service Commission have done that. The important thing is that when Sauers Brothers were denied admission to the Golden Triangle

Pa. Giving Hoover Edge

Returns from widely scattered sections of Pennsylvania give Herbert Hoover the advantage over Gov. Alfred E. Smith in the total of ballots filed for the day in the straw vote canvass of the state conducted by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Hoover also had the advantage in the day's returns in centers which have been giving Smith strong support in recent returns. The Republican candidate captured a slight lead over the New York executive in Luzerne county, Scranton, Philadelphia and Erie.

The Hoover lead over Smith in the poll passed 10,000 with the latest returns, with the total of ballots received mounting to 52,696.

The majority of the Republican candidate has been due mainly to the preponderance of votes cast for him in rural counties of the state, which are entirely or largely rural in character. These counties have been intensively canvassed in recent weeks, in addition to a number of urban centers. The quotas in most of them are nearly reached.

Twelve counties of the state to which the poll has not yet been extended contain many of the large third class cities. Each has a large quota of straw votes and a study of the results of the poll in these counties is expected to prove most interesting.

The standing at present in the Pennsylvania poll, conducted in connection with the nation-wide canvass by the Hearst papers, is as follows: Hoover 31,483, 24,534 men and 6,949 women; Smith 21,213, 15,887 men and 5,326 women. This vote in 1924 was divided as follows: Coolidge 36,762, 28,479 men and 8,283 women; Davis 5,510, 4,580 men and 930 women; LaFollette 3,397; not voting 7,039.

Hold One in Baseball Pool

The advance sale of world series pool tickets has been discontinued at Nathan Richman's tailor shop, second floor, 6295 Frankstown avenue.

Lieut. William Fullerton and a squad raided the place yesterday, arrested Richman and four others, and confiscated 200 "hit-and-run" pool tickets. Today Richman was held for an investigation by Magistrate William J. Soost, after he admitted, police say, that he was an agent doing a small business.

Percy Richardson, Negro, of Putman street, who had a book of clearing house pool tickets, was fined $25. Three others whom Richman said were employes of the tailoring establishment and had nothing to do with the sale of pool tickets, were discharged.

COLOR SECTION PRAISED

Unstinted praise for the color gravure section, which is to appear in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph the coming Sunday and each Sunday thereafter, continues to come from leading educators, artists, business and professional men and women of the Pittsburgh district.

After a preview of the color-roto they said:

DR. JOHN G. BOWMAN, chancellor, University of Pittsburgh: Congratulations to the Sun-Telegraph for bringing a color gravure section to Pittsburgh. Faithful reproductions of beautiful paintings are well worthwhile.

DR. THOMAS S. BAKER, president, Carnegie Institute of Technology: The color gravure section is a very interesting exhibit of the art of printing and an illustration of the rapid progress of newspapers in meeting the wishes of the public and their increasing demand for the pictorial. The Sun-Telegraph is meeting this demand in a beautiful way.

DR. ANDRE AVINOFF, director, Carnegie Museum: I am amazed at the beautiful reproductions, the delicacy, the tonal values, the iridescence of the pictures in the new Sun-Telegraph color gravure section. My own two pictures are very finely done. I am surprised and pleased beyond words and hope every success for the pub-

SMITH FANS FIRES OF REPUBLICAN STRIFE

Schooled in America :-: Girl Today Marries Into Japanese Royalty :-: Titled Uncle "Father"

JUST 19

Educated in America, Setsuko Matsudaira, just turned 19, marries today into Japan's royal family and some day may become empress of all Japan!

PRINCE

Yasuhito, Prince Chichibu, brother of the emperor of Japan and the heir presumptive to the throne, is the bridegroom. Society is excited.

AMBASSADOR TO UNITED STATES

Although some of Japan's bluest blood of centuries flows in her father's veins, he is not titled. Tsuneo Matsudaira is former ambassador to the U. S. and now is ambassador-designate to Britain.

NATIVE GARB

This is Setsuko in native garb. Her prince, son of the late Taisho, was educated at Oxford.

BROTHER

SMITH'S ST. PAUL TALK FANS G. O. P. STRIFE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 28.—Gov. Smith has fed the fires of Republican discord during his 24-hour visit to the politically doubtful state of Minnesota.

The Democratic nominee may or may not carry the state in November. No Democrat ever has for President. But even the regular Republicans admit he has made infinitely more difficult the task of the G. O. P. in this state this year. And if the election were tomorrow, instead of six weeks from now, the Smith managers believe they have a 50-50 chance or better of winning Minnesota's 12 electoral votes.

FARMER-LABOR AID

The Farmer-Labor party, which elected Magnus Johnson to the United States Senate and then followed it up with the present senator, Hendrik Shipstead, has fused with the Democratic party wholeheartedly. This fact, in itself, may not sound so important, but when coupled with the support of the old LaFollette group, it assumes importance which is truly national. In effect, it amounts to the normal Democratic vote, the normal Farmer-Labor vote and the old LaFollette vote all working for Gov. Smith for the presidency. Against this stands the regular Republican organization working for Hoover.

This organization was powerful enough in 1924 to carry the state for Coolidge by 25,000 over the combined Davis-LaFollette vote, but much water has run under the bridges since that time. Hence, the Democrats are confident, and the Republicans are correspondingly nervous.

Into such a situation, Gov. Smith stepped last night with a speech designed particularly for Minnesota [illegible] and 10,000 people in St. [illegible] auditorium liter-

PRAISES PROGRESSIVES

Within [illegible] minutes, Gov. Smith praised [illegible] records of the elder Roosevelt, the elder La Follette, of Senator Shipstead, of Senator Norris (R.), of Nebraska, and of ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, whose candidacy for the nomination at the Kansas City convention the Minnesota delegation backed to the last gasp.

Concerning each of these notable Republican insurgents, Gov. Smith had some complimentary passage in his St. Paul speech.

He quoted Roosevelt against "invisible government;" he recalled that both La Follette and Roosevelt had left the Republican party to found their own progressive organizations; he said "Senator Shipstead also had to take a walk;" he quoted Senator Norris in praise of his (Smith's) Omaha speech, and he praised Gov. Lowden as one of the cleanest Republican thinkers on the subject of farm relief.

All this was no accident. It was a direct bid for the old Progressive vote of Minnesota, which expressed itself four years ago in the shape of 333,000 votes for the La Follette third party ticket. The five Republicans named by Gov. Smith are conceded to have great followings in Minnesota.

SPEECH GRIPS CROWD

Solemn and satirical by turns, Gov. Smith literally stood people on their chairs last night when he discarded his manuscript and talked informally to the thousands who, within and without, jammed the St. Paul auditorium. The Governor did not attempt to follow his text. Instead, he cast it aside, and, as he himself expressed it, "talked turkey." to the crowd.

The Governor said he was in favor of giving the people "the low down on Washington," which, he asserted, President Coolidge has not done; he asked his audience to compare the governmental leadership of today with that existing under Roosevelt and Wilson; he demanded to know why LaFollette and Roosevelt left their party to found a third party; he accused Coolidge and Hoover of "lack of leadership." In solving the farm problem he ridiculed the Republican platform in a dozen spots. He named both President Coolidge and Secretary Hoover as evasive on the real issues, and he wound up his speech with a challenge to his hearers to be faithful to the principles of Roosevelt and LaFollette rather than the principles of Hoover and Coolidge.

It seems to me that during the last two Republican administrations, in the absence of leadership, "there has been what we might call a hidden control. There seems to be somebody pulling the strings from behind the scenes. And that hidden control has been entirely successful in shaping the policies of the administration so that any private program is not interfered with."

HEIR TO JAPANESE THRONE WEDS

International News Service.

TOKIO, Sept. 28.—With all Japan in festive array, Prince Chichibu, heir presumptive to the throne of Japan, was married to Miss Setsuko Matsudaira, daughter of Japan's former ambassador to the United States, at the Imperial Palace today with the same ceremonies and amid all the pomp and Oriental splendor which marked the weddings of the Japanese imperial family before the dawn of Western civilization.

Surrounding the palace were thousands who had taken their places at daybreak and waited until 9 o'clock this morning when the ceremony took place. The joyous atmosphere prevailing among these thousands was in sharp contrast to the almost sombre solemnity which prevailed in the imperial sanctuary of the palace as the prince and bride were wed.

The bride, the first daughter of a commoner to be selected by a prince of royal blood since the establishment of hereditary nobility in Japan, made a fetching picture.

She was attired in a gorgeous five-fold kimona covered with beautiful allegoric designs in all the colors of the rainbow. She carried an enormous fan. Her hair was dressed in the same style that countless royal Japanese brides had followed. The kimona she wore had been used by royal brides untold generations back.

Prince Chichibu also was dressed in an ancient style court kimona, just as his ancestors were.

The ceremony was performed in the Kashikodokoro ("the Place of Awe"), the sanctuary in the Imperial Palace.

Chanting a ritual hymn, the Prince informed the Sun Goddess, the ancestral deity of the Imperial House of Japan, that he was taking Setsuko as his bride. Having thus invoked the blessings of the gods, the couple exchanged cups of sacred wine while ritual priests chanted weird hymns, and then their union was proclaimed as "one flesh."

All foreigners were barred from witnessing the ceremony by religious precepts, which made only members of the immediate families and a few court ritualists and officials, eligible to attend.

Following the ceremony, the Prince and his bride proceeded to their new dwelling place, a strictly occidental residence resembling an English country house. There, the wedding luncheon was held and the Prince was presented with a 900-year old sword.

After the luncheon, they returned to the Imperial Palace, where they were formally received by the Emperor and Empress. They are expected to leave on a short honeymoon tonight.

The huge crowd which turned out to catch glimpses of the royal couple after the ceremony, was extremely orderly. There were no untoward incidents of any kind. Tonight there will be mammoth lantern processionals all over the city. A demonstration before the new dwelling place of the bridal couple is also planned.

The sun shone beautifully throughout the ceremony—a good omen, according to Japanese seers.

GRAVURE WINS PRAISE

HOMER ST. GAUDENS, director fine arts, Carnegie Institute: I am glad to hear that the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph is to publish pictures in natural color. We lack color in our everyday life in America and I am interested in any attempt that is made to appeal to the eyes through other colors than black and white.

There is no reason why we cannot reproduce in this country with reasonable accuracy the colors which the artist uses, and I will look forward to seeing the reproductions which the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph will make of paintings in the Twenty-seventh International. I am sure that such reproductions will arouse, on the part of those who see them, a desire to come in contact with the originals.

DR. F. M. CLAPP, director fine arts department, University of Pittsburgh: A mechanical triumph. The color gravure section is very stimulating, especially Dr. Avinoff's pastel drawings of the Bermuda fishes, and the ortrait by Malcolm Parcell. These are wholly admirable and Dr. Avinoff's, while scientifically correct, at the same time give forth the iridescence of marine life in tropical waters.

PORTER GARNETT, noted printer, professor of graphic art, Carnegie Tech: While I am a printer and little familiar with color work, I think the color pictures are very pleasing and stimulating.

NORWOOD MacGILVARY, artist, professor, Carnegie Tech: The color gravure is splendid, and the Sun-Telegraph is to be congratulated. The reproductions of the paintings give a richness that is hardly believable in mechanical processes.

K. M. ASHE, artist, professor, Carnegie Tech: The color pictures are excellent and represent a fine development in the printing of colors. I am sure everybody will like them. They mark a new step in the progress of art.

RUSSELL T. HYDE, painter, professor, Carnegie Tech: I like the pictures very well, and especially the reproduction of Parcell's "Anne Rholene." The Sun-Telegraph is to be congratulated.

RUDYERD BOULTON, ornithologist: I like the pictures very well in color. They seem so much brighter and more alive than the monotones. I think Director Avinoff's marine pictures are especially fine and authentic reproductions.

COUNCILMAN ROBERT GARLAND: This is a very attractive section. I hope you continue to use as many local pictures as possible in future isues.

JOHN SCHILP, Deputy City Controller: This color-gravure section is wonderful and commendable. The pictures in colors are not only interesting but educational also.

COUNTY TREASURER JOHN FRANCIES: A very beautiful section.

COUNCILMAN ROBERT J. ALDERDICE: The Sun-Telegraph should be given credit for bringing this attractive new feature to Pittsburgh. The pictures in colors are very beautiful.

SAMUEL J. RENO, member of the city board of assessors: After seeing this new section, I feel sure that it will appeal to the people of Pittsburgh.

JAMES C. SMITH, secretary of the Civil Service Commission: I have been reading the advertisements of the pictures in natural colors but I did not realize how vivid they really would be. This is very attractive.

GARDNER CALLS HIS DRY CRITIC

much time investigating the slot machine ring. He had two detectives obtain from Magistrate John J. Orie, of Central Police Court, the names of defendants in recent slot machine arrests by city police.

Later, county detectives were sent out with subpenas for Samuel Johnson, a restaurant keeper, of 1315 Carson street, and Stanley Cynda, confectioner, of 1710 Carson street. They were to tell what, if anything, they knew of the slot machine ring's activities on the South Side.

The sleuths not only brought back Johnson and Cynda, but a third man, William Palbaum, of 1219 Carson street.

"REAL TESTIMONY"

"We got some real testimony today," District Attorney Gardner said late yesterday after the grand jury was dismissed for the day.

"We're getting somewhere," Mr. Gardner said. "We're going to subpena five or six more tomorrow. Monday we'll be working all day and from then on nothing will interfere with the investigation."

Police Inspector James N. Hoey, whose activities in closing up Hill district resorts precipitated the row which resulted in charges of widespread "administration protected" vice and crime from Alderman John J. Verona and the investigation as a consequence, was the last witness to testify yesterday. He was in the grand jury room 50 minutes.

It was after Inspector Hoey, who waited in the grand jury witness room for three hours before being called, had left that Mr. Gardner announced, with enthusiasm, that the investigation is "getting somewhere."

"MYSTERY WITNESS"

Charles W. Collins, of the Children's Service Bureau, was the first witness called when Mr. Gardner and his chief assistant, Andrew T. Park, started the day's questioning of witnesses. Emil Steiner, 2242 Shady avenue, followed; after him came Meyer Shapiro, a clothier of Smithfield street, a "mystery witness," whose interest in the investigation could not be guessed at by those outside the grand jury room. Hoey followed Shapiro.

Garber was subpenaed to appear during the day, but the grand jury was dismissed without his appearance. This was likewise the case with subpenas said to be out for Alderman Verona, whose testimony Monday opened the investigation, and Lieut. David F. Corbett, head of the city homicide squad.

The grand jury will conclude its regular business today, according to Assistant District Attorney Ralph Hunter, in charge of routine presentations. The jurors will not meet Saturday, but beginning Monday will devote all their time to the graft and vice investigation.

Federal judges will be asked to quash all of the 167 indictments returned last summer if any "leads" or evidence developed at the United States Court grand jury hearings are turned over to Gardner, it was freely rumored at the courthouse.

BAND TO FIGHT

"All persons testifying before the federal grand jury were granted immunity, particularly if they testified against themselves," one spokesman said.

"Mr. Gardner cannot promise that same immunity. He will violate the federal law which provides all matters before the grand jury are secret, if he attempts to use any evidence gathered there."

It was reported that attorneys representing the 167 persons indicted in the United State Court will confer soon to determine upon a course of action. Meanwhile, Ralph H. Smith, assistant United States attorney, issued a statement declaring that it is illegal to turn over the minutes of the grand jury to Gardner. The minutes cover 12,000 typewritten pages and contain the testimony of 1,340 persons who testified.

TWO TROLLEY BANDITS FOUND GUILTY

John Otis, of Long way, and Sylvester Mantz, of Forty-third street, have been found guilty of a charge of robbing a dispatcher of the Pittsburgh Railways Company of $2,401.85. George Schreiber, of Arch street, and William Murphy, of Thirtieth street, tried on the same charge, were found not guilty.

The jury last night returned a sealed verdict, which was read before Judge Elder W. Marshall when court opened today.

On Monday the four will go on trial in connection with robbing Edward Le Goullin, paymaster of the Ward Baking Company, of $4,520 last April. Otis and Mantz are charged with the robbery. Schreiber and Murphy are charged with being accessories before and after the fact.

Otis and Mantz will not be sentenced for their conviction of the railways' robbery until after the baking company robbery trial.

JUDGE SEVERE IN DRY CASES

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 28.—Roadhouse proprietors found rough sledding in the fall term of the United States Court which adjourned here yesterday. Harry Folge, found guilty of sale and possession of liquor was fined $700 and given seven months in jail. It was his third offense.

Harmon E. Wagus, former constable-at-large, former bailiff of Midland and former deputy game warden operating on the National highway was fined $150, plus costs. Henry F. Hyde was fined $300, besides costs.

Mrs. Ethel Albright, who operates a roadhouse on the Mount Savage boulevard, for possession on two charges was fined a total of $425. She testified the quor was purchased from a constable.

Luther Hopwood, former assistant prohibition enforcement officer, was fined $100 and given 45 days in jail for possession of liquor and destruction of evidence.

an injustice was done to all the people from Imperial to Ingram."

J. Ellis Shipman of Dormont writes, "It affords me great pleasure to read your daily article in regard to the exhorbitant rate charged on the buses of the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company and I only fear that you will be forced by some influence to give up the good work before it has done some good.

"I would like to suggest that those of us who have autos would display some sort of emblem on our cars and pass as many bus stops in our respective localities as possible both coming and going home, carrying people in our cars free. I believe this would help organize the bus riders and also considerably hurt the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company."

VETERAN DIES AT 83; MARRIED 65 YEARS

RIDGWAY, Pt., Sept. 28.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Adam Lindy, 83, a Civil War veteran. Mr. Lindy was born in Salem, Pa., and had lived in Ridgway 70 years.

Starts Down Incline :-: Heavy Truck Runs Away :-: Children Escape

BALANCED!

Four children, playing in the front yard of their home, 1931 Meadville street, escaped death when a heavy runaway coal truck balanced on a retaining wall, as shown in the above photograph.

BREAKS FENCE

Frank Jackson, driver, was delivering coal across the street when the truck started down this incline, crossed the street and broke through the iron fence in front of the residence of Joseph Badano.

SAVE BROTHER

Joseph Badano (left), 3, was cut on the head when coal began falling into the yard. His cries aroused his sisters, Rose, 7, and Mary, 5, to the danger and they dragged little Gustave (right), 2, out of harm's way.

HOOVER LAUNCHES FEMININE VOTE DRIVE

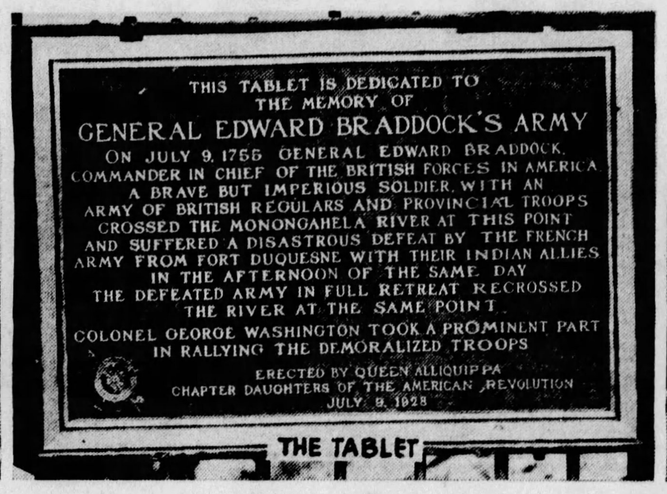
D. A. R. Ceremony :-: Commemorating Braddock's Crossing of Monongahela :-: Bronze Tablet Erected

DESCENDANTS

William Lawrence Gordon Gibson and Miss Dorothy Anne Keith, descendants of Col. Harry Gordon of the staff of Gen. Braddock, unveiled a tablet marking the place where Braddock's army on its ill-fated march crossed the Monongahela River at McKeesport.

THE SCENE

Flanked by the British and American flags, the bronze tablet was unveiled in the presence of scores of members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, some of them descendants of members of Braddock's army.



ON BRIDGE

Above is a photograph of the tablet taken after it was unveiled. The bridge to which it is affixed is within a stone's throw of the place where Gen. Braddock led his army across the Monongahela. To many in this district, the ceremony is of great historical interest.

HOOVER MAKES DRIVE FOR FEMINIST VOTE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The national drive to corral the American feminist vote for Herbert Hoover was in full swing today with the completion of an organization to win the votes of business and professional women.

The efforts of the Republican National Committee to win the support of women in this campaign exceed anything ever attempted in any previous presidential race. With the entire women's organization under the direction of Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, vice chairman of the committee, separate bureaus were created to win different groups of women. The last of these bureaus, for the solicitation of business women's votes, was completed with the naming of state leaders in 16 states.

NAME STATE CHAIRMEN

These women will carry the Hoover campaign to women lawyers, physicians, teachers, nurses, shop owners and clerical workers. The state leaders just named were Miss Margaret Stewart, of Phoenix, for Arizona; Miss Caroline Guener, of Des Moines, for Iowa; Mrs. Emma Fall Chofield, of Boston, for Massachusetts; Miss Helen Summy, of St. Joseph, for Missouri; Miss Hazel Davis, of Great Falls, for Montana; Dr. Jane B. Ringer, of Lincoln, for Nebraska; Miss Minnie Flanigan, of Reno, for Nevada; Miss Amanda Strayer, of Steubenville, for Ohio; Mrs. Daisy Ithell, of Oklahoma City, for Oklahoma; Mrs. Helen M. Schluraff, of Erie, for Pennsylvania; Miss Mary C. Smith, of Providence, for Rhode Island; Miss Marjorie Will, of San Antonio, for Texas; Mrs. B. W. Speed, of Roanoke, for Virgina; Mrs. Bessie Lewis, of Wenatchee, for Washington, and Mrs. Kathleen A. Courtney, of Fairmont, for West Virginia.

The Republican nominee meanwhile worked upon his Elizabethton, Tenn., speech. He hopes to complete it today, although its delivery will not be until October 6. The speech will be of a historical character and will deal chiefly with the development of government in America.

The nominee will continue to stress the tariff as a campaign issue in some of his remaining speeches, especially on his trip across the country in the last days of the campaign. The groundwork was laid today when Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, issued a statement, declaring the Republican tariff had saved the ranchers, cattlemen and sheepmen of western states from destruction at the hands of importers.

Frank statements of some party leaders who have called on Herbert Hoover recently concerning the Republican prospects in Massachusetts, the home state of President Coolidge, have served to revive speculation as to what part the Chief Executive is to play in the presidential campaign.

Mr. Coolidge and his successor as the head of the Republican party have conferred upon this subject but there has been no announcement beyond the mere statement that the chief executive wants to be as helpful as possible.

MAY MAKE SPEECH

Since that pronouncement word has gone around in some political circles that Mr. Coolidge contemplates making at least one speech before election day and since his party appears to be having its troubles in his own state the natural assumption has been that he would speak there.

Political observers who have dug into the records of the past have found plenty of instances of a president actively participating in a campaign in which his own political fortunes were not at stake, but there are few instances of a chief executive directly urging the voters to support the presidential candidate of his party.

SHOT FLEEING CRAP GAME

County detectives today began investigation of the shooting of Albert Brown, 28, Negro, of 1214 Locust street, McKeesport, when Duquesne police raided a crap game at the Bernstein Club, 100 Mill street, Duquesne, last night. A motorcycle policeman is said to have fired when Brown tried to escape.

Brown is in the McKeesport Hospital with a bullet wound in his lip and right jaw. Duquesne police are said to have declined to give details of the shooting to the county detectives over the telephone and Chief George W. Murren detailed Detective Michael McDermott to investigate. Eight other Negroes, arrested in the raid, will be given a hearing tomorrow.

2 MILLION LEFT BY CHALFANT

An estate valued at approximately $2,000,000 is disposed of in the will of the late Henry Chalfant, which was filed for probate yesterday. Mr. Chalfant, who was chairman of the board of Spang, Chalfant Company, died recently in Biarritz, France.

He directed that the bulk of his estate go to his widow and three children. Several smaller bequests were made to personal friends.

One third of the remainder is given to his widow and the balance held in trust for the children.

SALERNO ACQUITTED BY LAWRENCE JURY

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—Leonard Salerno, on trial since last Saturday charged with the murder of Joseph Tranquillo, was acquitted by a jury in Criminal Court. Testimony of officers of Stowe township, Allegheny county, where Salerno was alleged to have fled following the slaying, was a feature of the trial.

Safe Carted Away, Juvenile Gang Blamed

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 28.—A gang of juvenile thieves, responsible for thefts aggregating $3,000, makes its headquarters here, it was said today by Police Chief Charles Ray. He is investigating the latest robbery, removal of a 500-pound safe from the Jones Company, wholesale confectioners, by truck six miles to Dyes Corner, where the gang has already dismantled three cars and distributed a quantity of merchandise. They got $100 from the safe.

Fla. Plans Services For Dead

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 28.—(AP.)—Plans were made here today for a simple funeral service to be held Sunday for Florida's 2,300 storm dead.

Members of the city Ministerial Union have appointed eight of its body to conduct the service, which will be held over the graves of more than 700 storm victims buried at Woodlawn Cemetery here. Rites will be conducted for those buried there, for those buried elsewhere and for those whose bodies lie unfound along the devastated shores of Lake Okeechobee.

Two services will be held. The first at 2:30 p. m., will be for white people, and the other, to be conducted later and by Negro clergymen, will be for Negro storm victims.

Under present plans the first funeral dirge will be played by the city band, the opening hymn will be sung by a mass choir from all the city churches and the invocation will be said by the Rev. Charles G. Dilworth, of Norwood Baptist Church.

A scripture passage will be read by the Rev. John G. Strandley, of Wagg Memorial Methodist Church, and a brief address will follow by the Rev. Charles H. Bolton, of the First Baptist Church.

The committment service will be conducted by the Rev. William A. Cooper, of the First Methodist Church. Prayer will be said by the Rev. John H. Minges, of the Church of Christ, and the benediction will be by the Rev. E. A. Lindsey, of the Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Leading the choir will be the Rev. Charles W. Pusey, of the Union Congregational Church, and the Rev. A. M. Depew will supervise the musical program.

INJURED AT REUNION, VETERAN OF 60'S DIES

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 28.—Harvey A. Leonard, 87, a Civil War veteran, who fractured his hip while attending the reunion of his regiment, the Eighty-Fifth Pennsylvania Volunteers, at Brownsville, last month, died in the Washington Hospital here last night. He was one of six brothers who saw service in the Union Army, two of them being killed in action.

CHILDREN GET $42,500 ESTATE

An estate valued at $42,500 is disposed of in the will of Henry Lewis, 2334 Braddock avenue, Swissvale, filed for probate today. An employe, Elizabeth Alexander, is to receive $200, and the balance is to go to Lewis' three children, Charles W. and Walter J. Lewis and Mrs. Bertha Schaeffer.

The will of Robert McKibben, 312 Carver street, leaves an estate valued at $13,000 to his four children, Mrs. Ida McKibben, Dr. F. H. McKibben, John F. McKibben and Mrs. Eleanor McKibben Johnson.

HIT-RUN VICTIM FOUND DEAD

Believed to be the victim of a hit and run motorist, an unidentified man, aged about 50, was found lying in Butler street near Forty-second street early this morning. He was taken to St. Margaret's Hospital where he was pronounced dead. His skull and chest had been crushed. The man was dressed in workman's clothing and wore a cap. At the morgue, where the body was taken, it was discovered that his right arm had a deformity between the elbow and shoulder.

DRYS BACK PHYSICIAN FOR PFISCHNER'S SEAT

With the entrance of Dr. Marshall M. Thompson, a Pitcairn physician, as the Prohibition party candidate, a three-cornered battle for Senator in the Fortieth District, to succeed the late Edward E. Pfischner, has developed.

The Republicans nominated Herman P. Brandt, of Ross township, who defeated Park H. Martin, of Bellevue. The latter had the support of John W. Vickerman and other "dry" leaders of the district, who threatened for a time to start an independent movement in his favor. This failed and considerable dry support is expected to go to Thompson. C. O. Wherry, Brackenridge, is the Democratic candidate.

SLAYER GETS FIRST DEGREE

A Criminal Court jury today found Marshall Augustine, Negro, guilty of murder in the first degree and recommended life imprisonment. Augustine was charged with shooting Michael Otyjika, 55, of Carnegie. His defense was that he had gone to Otyjika's home and asked payment for a coat he had sold him, and that Otyjika attacked him. Augustine was represented by Attorney Rebecca Davis.

CRAWFORD ELECTED CARNEGIE TRUSTEE

George W. Crawford, president of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company, yesterday was elected a member of the board of trustees of the Carnegie Institute, Carnegie Institute of Technology and Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, succeeding James J. Turner, deceased.

Warns U.S. Missions In Peril

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 28.—Fear that the members of the Sierra Leone tribes of British West Africa may slay American missionaries laboring among them were expressed today by the imprisoned son of the tribal chief at the Gloucester detention house of the Department of Immigration here.

Farger Comara, 23, who arrived from Detroit with eight traveling bags and a roll of documents to prove that he is the son of Almarne Sorey Comara, chief of the Timany section of the tribes of Sierra Leone, British West Africa, is being held pending his deportation for having allegedly entered the United States unlawfully across the Canadian border.

The young African said he feared that the natives under his father would attack all the Americans in their country when word of his arrest and imprisonment reached them. Most of the Americans in the Sierra Leone country are missionaries.

Ex-Postal Clerk Held

Charged with stealing $13,000 that was being shipped from the Federal Reserve Bank of Pittsburgh to the Union Deposit Bank in Arnold on August 19, 1927, George F. Aberth, 28, a former mail clerk in the Pittsburgh Postoffice, was arrested in his home in Buffalo, N. Y., last night. He will be returned to Pittsburgh for trial.

Postoffice Inspectors George V. Craighead and E. J. Gallagher made the arrest. They say Aberth confessed the theft. He was working as a substitute mail clerk at the time of the theft. Six hundred dollars is said to have been recovered in the prisoner's home last night.

Foot Stool Target Applies For Divorce

Constant hagging and the throwing of a footstool at him were cited in court by Harry G. Oswalt, Jr., a steward in the William Penn Hotel, as his reason for leaving Regina Oswalt, whom he is suing for divorce. He told Judge Geore V. Moore his troubles in Common Pleas Court.

The couple were married September 30, 1919, and he testified their differences began the following Saturday, finally ending in a separation December 8, 1927. Oswalt charges his wife with cruel and barbarous treatment.

PITTSBURGHER ASSIGNED TO ALTOONA PASTORATE

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 28.—The Rev. Jerome McQuillan, rector of the Catholic church at Lilly, has been appointed vicar general of the Altoona diocese and named to the pastorate of Sacred Heart Church, Altoona, to succeed the late Rev. Monsignor Thomas P. Smith. Father McQuillan is a native of Pittsbrugh and graduate of St. Vincent's. He was ordained in the diocese of Pittsburgh 26 years ago.

BERGDOLL TO FLY HERE, HIDE IN WOODS

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Glover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia's millionaire draft dodger, will make a trans-Atlantic flight to this country from Germany, it was reported here today.

Several weeks ago Bergdoll bought a huge German airplane and the trans-Atlantic flight was given added credence when it was learned that Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, the slacker's mother, purchased 10,000 acres of land in the Northern Pennsylvania wilderness.

Although Mrs. Bergdoll explained that she intends establishing a summer colony of her friends, it was reported she might build a landing field and that Bergdoll will try to fly there and remain in hiding in the isolated section.

Bergdoll fled from this city to escape Army duty after being arrested by government agents following a long search.

N. Y. Plans Drive on Vice

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(AP.)—Newspapers today saw in a secret meeting of high police officials the possible laying of plans for a city-wide vice cleanup centering principally on speakeasies flourishing in the Broadway district.

The spetacular raid of detectives on a mid-town speakeasy early yesterday morning in which one of their number engaged in a pistol and fist duel with the proprietor was taken to be the first move in the cleanup.

The meeting was held in the office of Deputy Chief Inspector Lewis J. Valentine, confidential man of the department, who would only say it was of a "very important" nature. Commissioner Warren said the meeting had been called to discuss proposed reforms in police office procedure, but he did not say whether any other matters were discussed.

The meeting was attended by the deputy chief inspectors in charge of Manhattan, the Bronx, Staten Island and the officer in charge of the white light district.

Woman in 15-Floor Fall Dies

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The death of Mrs. Evelyn Stoddard Reynolds, of Stamford, Conn., who fell 15 stories last night from the apartment of her father here, was recorded as accidental today by police. Her father, Henry L. Stoddard, formerly was the editor of the New York Mail and Express.

No one was in the apartment at the time. Police believe she lost her balance while opening a window. The body was fully clothed.

Mrs. Reynolds was the divorced wife of Eugene Beaumont Reynolds. Their wedding here in 1912 was one of the fashionable events of New York society.

INSURANCE WORKERS DANCE AT OAKMONT

More than 400 employes and guests of the Reliance Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, attended the annual corn roast and dance of the Reliance Life Employes' Association at the Willows, Oakmont, last night. Arrangements were in charge of Harvey Helbling, Mrs. Elma T. Mansmann, W. F. Aull, E. K. Miller, C. A. Price and John Kelly.

Absence of Week Laid to Girl's Amnesia

Absent from her home for a week and refusing to tell where she had been, Concetta Ardolino, 15, daughter of Donato Ardolino, of 6529 Shetland avenue, returned home late yesterday.

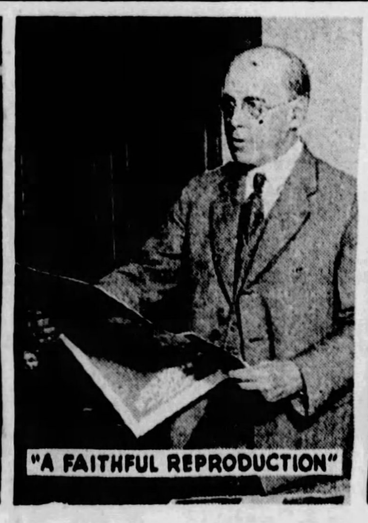
When notice of the disappearance was printed in the newspapers yesterday, the girl telephoned her mother that she was all right and would return.

The girl's parents believe she has suffered another attack of amnesia. They said she had suffered one attack while away at school a year ago. The girl was placed under the care of a physician.

Color Gravure Hailed -:- As Others See Them! -:- "Faithful Photos"

HER VERY SELF

Miss Elizabeth McCullough found no flaw in next Sunday's Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's color gravure reproduction of her photogyraphs when she previewed it. Miss McCullough is a debutante. So is next Sunda's Sun-Telegraph color gravure for Pittsburgh. Pictures in natural colors are offered by no other Pittsburgh newspaper, and by only eight other newspapers in the country.



"IT'S REAL ART!"

T. P. Gaylord, president, Chamber of Commerce, was amazed at the faithful color reproduction. The reproduction of Otto Kuhler's "Bessemer Converter" Mr. Gaylord found "really as good as the original."

FAITHFUL PORTRAYAL

Miss Rhoda Gamble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Gamble, Oakmont, and one of the season's debutantes, was delighted not only with her own picture, but with all the color gravure section. "I love that garden scene with the children in pink frocks. It's so faithfully portrayed. Why, every detail stands out," she said.

EXCELLENT REPRODUCTION

"It's a fine thing for Pittsburgh. That steel mill picture is a perfect reproduction." That was the consensus among the Chamber of Commerce members shown above. Almost every day they see the original of Kuhler's painting, and they found the color gravure copy as pleasing as the original. Left to right, they are: Postmaster George W. Gosser, J. B. Anderson, F. M. Simmons, Thomas A. Dunn, T. A. Doyle and Stewart C. McFarland.

RUNAWAY TRUCK HITS WALL; 4 TOTS ESCAPE

As a heavily-laden coal truck swayed on top of a 25-foot retaining wall, four children of Joseph Badano, playing in the front yard of their home at 1931 Meadville street, were threatened with death.

One of the children, Joseph, 3, struck on the head by a falling lump of coal, apprised his brother, Gustave, 2, and his sisters, Rose, 7, and Mary, 5, of their danger and all fled.

Frank Jackson, driver for the Second Pool Coal Company, had run his truck into the driveway at the residence of R. C. Robinson, 1932 Meadville street, to unload coal shortly after noon. The truck started down the driveway, dashed across the street, broke the iron fence on top of the retaining wall, and was about to topple into the yard of the Badano residence when the rear wheels caught on the parapet and kept the machine from falling.

"They've really built a PAVEMENT this time"

And they have, too. Brick.

Previously, there had been costly pavement failures . . . public interest had become aroused . . . people approved building roads and streets—but—those roads and streets must last.

"Does it pay to be penny-wise in construction cost and pound-foolish with maintenance," was asked.

So the community studied pavements impartially as a banker studies an investment. It considered past and present performance of all pavements—riding comfort—the effect of weather—increasing traffic—appearance. And brick streets were chosen.

Brick pavement as built today is smooth-riding; safe; easy on the eyes. Densest, toughest road surface, it resists both weather and traffic punishment. Thus it lasts over 20 years with few repairs. WHAT'S ON THE AIR

MUSIC of the brighter variety, from the pens of old masters and of the present day composers, will go on the air from Pittsburgh's broadcasting stations tonight for the entertainment of the invisible audience.

One of the first programs, and one of unusual merit, is composed of gems from the Strauss operetta, "The Waltz Dream," for the WCAE Cities Service Hour at 8 o'clock. "Chalita," a seductive Tango, Norwegian Dance in G, by Grieg, and "Oriental," by Cesar Cui, played as 'cello solo, are among the high spots of this hour of entertainment.

The Cities Service Cavaliers will come before the microphone with several fine quartet selections, including Stultze's "Sweetest Story Ever Told," in which they will have the support of the full orchestra.

Two numbers from musical shows will be sung by the Quaker Girl as soprano solos during the KDKA Armstrong Quakers program at 8:30 o'clock.

The Quaker Girl's presentations will be "Cross Your Heart," from Gensler's "Queen High," and "Auf Wiedersehen," from Romberg's "Blue Paradise." Both numbers have been specially arranged for this programe, as has most of the music to be heard, by Ken Christie and Ann Lang, under the supervision of Frank Black. "Blue Shadows," from the current edition of "The Vanities," will be played as a guitar solo. Selections from other outstanding revues and musical comedies will be sung by a mixed octet which was built especially for this series of programs, and which was rehearsed for more than three months before the first broadcast. Octet numbers in this program will include "Once in a Lifetime;" "My Treasure," and "You're What I Need," from "She's My Baby." The chorus also will sing a traditional Irish air, "Meeting of the Waters," as a special feature.

A gay crowd of Spearmen, to the accompaniment of bright music, will present the Wrigley Review through KDKA at 9 o'clock. The orchestra will open the program with Grieg's "Suite for Orchestra" from "Sigurd Jorsalfar," his saga of Norwegian life. "In a Tavern," from Nicode's "Scenes from the South," and "At the Fair," from "The Countryside," by Coates, are entirely different in mood, but will be attractive as further orchestral presentations.

Vocal and instrumental soloists will contribute their talent to the review, and many specialties will be heard. Among these are included "I Never Kissed a Baby Like You," sung by the Shenannigan Duo; "Nellie Dare and Charlie Brooks," by a novelty trio; "Nagasaki," played by a xylophone soloist; "The Mannikin Ball," heard as an accordion solo, and "Half Way to Heaven," sung by a male quartet of Spearmen.

"Truth is stranger than fiction," even among the high peaks of the White Mountains, as the radio audience will learn when they listen in to the WJAS True Story Hour at 9 o'clock. The beauty of the White Mountains will be portrayed in the musical travelogue which constitutes the first part of the True Story Hour, while the latter half of the hour is to be devoted to the dramatized version of the true story that is told to Mary and Bob. It concerns a man, who, for the sake of his family, struggled against overwhelming odds. But unnecessarily, for, as he later learned, he was, and had been even during his struggle, a rich man.

Karl Maria von Weber's "Invitation to the Dance," has been chosen by the United Salon Orchestra to open their program over WJAS at 10 o'clock. The orchestra is to be heard in numbers by Cui, Svendsen, Chopin, Grieg, Moszkowski, Sibelius, Tschaikowsky, and Schubert. A feature of the program will be a saxophone solo, Chopin's "Valse Brillante," by Felix Vivier.

Alma Peterson, soprano; Judson House, tenor; the Lenox String Quartet, and the National Concert Orchestra under the direction of Cesere Sodero are featured in an all classical program as the weekly offering of the WCAE National Broadcasting and Concert Bureau Hour at 10 o'clock.

Miss Peterson will sing the "Song of India" of Rimsky-Korsakoff, and the soprano aria from "Il Trovatore," "Ta cea la notte placida." Mr. House will be heard in the tenor area "Una Furtiva Lagrima" from Donizetti's "Elsir d'Amore," and later sings a duet with Miss Peterson, "Dear Love of Mine," from Goring Thomas' "Nadeshda."

"The Last Movement" of Beethoven's Quartet, Op. 18, and the now famous "Londonderry Air" are to be played by the Lenox String Quartet, while the National Concert Orchestra is heard in accompaniments for the vocal solos and in a special arrangement of Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois" with words sung by Judson House.

An operatic program under the direction of Gertrude Mohr will be presented this evening at 7 o'clock from the studio of WCAE. The artists participating are: Elsie Matz Bauman, soprano; Lois Wiley, contralto; Vincent Kroen, tenor; Max Kroen, baritone; Gertrude Mohr at the piano. The quartet will sing "Good Night," from the opera, "Martha," and Max Kroen will do the prologue, from "Pagliacci," by Leon Cavallo.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

HER BIRTHDAY

By WILLIAM ALLEN WARD.

SIDNEY and Helen had been married for five years, or just about long enough for birthdays to become necessary nuisances along the troubled road of married life. For the first two years Sidney experienced no great difficulty in remembering Helen's birthday and exercised rare judgment in picking suitable gifts A mesh bag fitted nicely for Helen's twenty-second birthday which came only five months after the wedding.

Sidney was a bookkeeper in a wholesale grocery concern. His wages were in keeping with the average Mr. American which allowed certain pleasures of life but denied any and all extravagances. As a mater of fact Sidney spent a considerable portion of his leisure pondering over the odd-looking figures jotted down by him on his check stubs while in a rush and trying to make his bank balance figure enough to cover the check given for the week's rent or the monthly gas bill.

Such incidents of married life continuing through a whole year caused Sidney to rush with lessened speed to a jewelry store as Helen's twenty-third birthday approached. This time the gift was a wrist watch. She had always wanted a watch! Sidney remembered hearing Helen say she would like very much to have a wrist watch.

An anthology of American verse in nice leather binding, came as the gift for Helen's twenty-fourth birthday. Sidney didn't know for sure whether Helen read poetry. But the volume made a nice ornament for the reading table, which was deplorably naked so far as books were concerned.

Then came the almost fatal twenty-fifth birthday. The day had been a hard one at the office. And besides, it was raining. Sidney had been married a long time! Four years. He forgot Helen's birthday—almost. Just as he was stepping on the trolley, after waiting for a car for 30 minutes, he remembered.

It was raining. Rain suggested an umbrella. So, Helen for her twenty-fifth birthday got a nice silk umbrella.

Then came a twenty-sixth birthday.

Sidney and Helen had been married five years! And five years, take it any way you may, is five years, which is a considerable span of time even in the life of a whale.

Sidney's hair wasn't quite so black as when he married. Now it was streaked with gray. And in those five years everything in the life of Sidney had increased except his wages. Little Junior was three years old, while Baby Helen, who had her mother's big blue eyes, was fast turning her first year.

Sidney started home. He walked out of the office and started to the car stop when a small man rushed out in front of him. The little fellow was terribly excited and Sidney wondered what it was all about. A big policeman was standing only a few feet away and the sight of the bluecoat seemed to upset the man greatly. He turned and looked at Sidney in a helpless manner. Before Sidney knew what was happening the little fellow pushed close to him, close enough to touch his pocket, then raced down the street like a frightened rabbit.

Sidney reached home at his usual time. So far as he remembered, save for the episode of the scared man, the day was just another day.

Sidney started to open the first door. But Helen was waiting. She hadn't forgotten. She kissed her husband in an unusually affectionate manner. Her hands dropped against his coat pocket and a beam of delight showed in her eyes. An instant later she reached her hand into Sidney's pocket and pulled out a small jewelry box.

"You wonderful boy!" she said, opening the box, "always remembering my birthday."

Now Sidney did remember! The realization that he had forgotten his wife's birthday dawned upon him with a crash.

"A ring!" Helen said. "A diamond set ring. Oh, Sidney, really you can't afford such expensive presents!"

"Ring!" Sidney said.

But he stopped with one word. He was amazed at the mystery of the ring, but he would not have disappointed his wife for all the world. So Sidney determined to be brave.

"Like it?" he asked, at the same time embracing his wife with the enthusiasm of a newlywed, "thought you would like a ring. Never was satisfied with the engagement ring I gave you."

Sidney didn't sleep that night. Long after Helen had told him for the one hundredth time that he was the most wonderful husband in all the world, Sidney was trying to figure out from whence came Helen's mysterious birthday gift.

Sidney had been at his desk but a minute when Tubbs, the head clerk, said: "Lot of excitement yesterday—"

Sidney, nervous from loss of sleep, dropped his pen and listened with intense interest.

"Sneak thief slipped into the boss' office and stole a diamond ring he was giving his daughter as a birthday gift," Tubb continued.

Sidney's face turned white. An instant later it turned whiter. A minute longer and it was colorless.

But Sidney was a man who faced grim reality with a brave stoicim. Like a condemned felon starting to jail, Sidney, without a word, walked to the office of the president.

Sidney related his story like a criminal confessing and pleading for mercy. Then he asked the boss for the privilege of paying for the ring on a monthly instalment plan.

"It would break her heart if she knew the truth—knew that a thief dropped that ring in my pocket," said Sidney, "if she knew that I forgot her birthday!"

"Sidney," said the gray-haired old President, "I'll do as you have asked. Keep the ring and pay me for it by the month. But listen, Sidney, I'm doing this with the understanding that you will never again forget your wife's birthday."

And Silney never again forgot.

HIPPER DIPPERS HONOR BRYAN

At Politician Miles Bryan's birthday party on Indian Mound, McKees Rocks, yesterday, the band was playing "Sidewalks of New York" when County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong arrived with W. L. Mellon, who was said to be making his first plunge into political society.

"Now," yelled a straight Republican voter as he bowed toward Mellon, "you've played Al's song, let's have a good old Republican number."

The band struck up "How Dry I Am."

More than 1,000 leaders in the political and civic affairs of Allegheny county were present, including Mr. Mellon, former chairman of the Republican State committee, and Joseph F. Guffey, former Democratic National Committeeman, the leaders of the rival political organizations here.

During the day Mr. Bryan was presented a silver cup and Mrs. Bryan a sheaf of roses, the presentation addresses being made by Senator Frank J. Harris.

Dr. Joseph G. Steedle was chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

BUGS BAER Says

THE war veterans' home at Yountville, Cal., now has a snorer's barracks.

Seems that nasal shrapnel annoys the heroes of three wars.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Roar of artillery and bombs bursting in air are music when compared with a nose that never reaches the climax.

So Col. Holderman has divided his squads into two classes. The vets with somnambulistic musical ability have been assigned to separate quarters where they can bugle all night without disturbing alert sentries.

There are 24 snoring soldiers in the colonel's bunk expedition.

These midnight canaries can now orchestrate their slumbers without disturbing the War Department.

Peculiar thing about a man who snores is that you can never get him to admit it.

The wife has a beautiful, well-modulated snore that starts at zero and winds up among General Motors.

It runs a neat treble scale, hesitates for a few notes, picks up where it left off, gains power and finally sounds like a cat with walnut shells on its feet.

She retaliates by insisting that we wear a clothes pin on our nose when we sleep. No man has ever heard himself snore, but if the wife's statement is correct, our nose is the best after-dinner speaker in the world.

We have heard some anonymous complaints in Turkish baths and Pullman sleepers. We do our best when traveling to help the engineer whistle for the crossings.

A good, sincere, manly snore will scare burglars away, but awaken the baby and make a Jersey skeeter bite himself in frustrated indignation.

Apartment houses with dining alcoves, kitchenettes and other guest traps might also include snoring nooks in the building plans.

But there is no law against sounding your horn when sleeping. There can be no real criticism of a self-winding nose or any other engine that keeps running smoothly without extra consumption of oil and gasoline.

ICE FUND AIDED AS BOYS SELL ROOT BEER

An additional contribution of $5.10 was made to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Milk and Ice Fund today. The contribution was made by three young boys—Robert Patterson, Edward Houston and Edmund Burke, who earned the money by selling root beer before Edmund's home, at 4729 Kincaid street.

DONATION WEEK AT HOSPITAL

Donation week for the Suburban General Hospital, Bellevue, will be observed next week, beginning Monday. A feature of the observance will be a tea to be held in the hospital Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There will be an address by William B. Rodgers, a member of the board of directors, and music. Money contributions, it is announced, should be mailed to Miss Eva Braun, superintendent of the hospital. School houses in the North Boroughs will act as receiving stations for donations, such as canned goods, staple groceries, preserves, pickles and bedding material.

WOMAN AUTO VICTIM GETS $5,000 VERDICT

Mrs. Anna Alcorn won a $5,000 verdict and her husband $3,000 in their suit against Samuel Antis and Peter Rosenfield, partners in the ownership of an automobile, which injured Mrs. Alcorn, February 28, 1925, while she was crossing Penn avenue at Seventeenth street. The case was on trial for several days before Judge John A. Evans. Attorney Ralph Tannehill represented the plaintiff.

BOTANICAL SOCIETY GOES TO KENDALL

The Botanical Society of Western Pennsylvania will make a field trip to Kendall tomorrow. The party will leave the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Station at 1:50 o'clock, daylight saving time. O. E. Jennings will be the leader. The society plans an all-day trip to Chestnut Ridge, October 27.

CLUB SPONSORS TWO HIKES FOR SUNDAY

The Pittsburgh Hiking Club will sponsor two walks Sunday. A morning hike will be made from Bradford Woods to Sewickley. E. C. Shoemaker will be the leader. An afternoon walk, under the leadership of C. Heisel, will be from West View to Bellevue, starting at Harvard avenue.

LOCAL SALESMAN REGAINS HEALTH

Claims He Feels Fine in Every Way, Since Using Famous Ten Herbs.

The great natural medicine, Ten Herbs, continues to be a tremendous success throughout this entire section. Hundreds of men and women of all ages and stations in life are being relieved of such ailments as indigestion, gas, bloating, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, nervousness, constipation, pains and aches in the back, rheumatism, neuritis, or a weak, run-down condition, after using Ten Herbs. Prompted by gratitude, because of the relief they have been blessed with, many are making glowing reports to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this new herbal compound.

"I feel fine in every way, since using Ten Herbs," was the statement of Mr. George Davis, 1200 Palo Alto Street, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man. "Following an operation, I was in a very weak, run-down condition," continued Mr. Davis, who is a salesman. "There were such severe pains across my back at times that I could not stand erect. My appetite was poor, and nearly every kind of food caused distress. I was troubled with gas and bloating. My liver was inactive. I was nervous and could not sleep.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the newspapers and decided to give it a trial. Your medicine has been a great help to me. The pains are gone from my back. I am no longer distressed after eating, and gas has disappeared. I am free of that bloated feeling; and my liver is not sluggish now. Nervousness has left me, and I rest well at night. I do not hesitate to recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

SINGLE IDEA WORTH $1,000 IN ZAIN AD TEST

Rules for Sun-Telegraph-Zain $15,000 Ad Test

(Read These Carefully)

1—$15,000 in cash and prizes distributed over seven weeks. Grand prize, $1,000. Grand weekly prize, $100. Five prizes each week for six weeks for best ads written for each concern participating—195 each week, 1,170 prizes in all.

2—$1,000 for best ad submitted during entire campaign. Winners to be selected by committee of Pittsburgh advertising men and women.

3—Ads for first period must be received by midnight, October 3, at the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa. Ads arriving after that time will be automatically entered for the second period, and so on.

4—Ads submitted for the grand prize must be received before midnight on November 15, 1928. In order to compete for grand prize, contestants must have submitted at least one ad on each concern listed.

5—One person may submit any number of ads. The test may be entered at any time. Ads may be written about any one or all, or any product or all, of the concerns listed. A person may win more than one prize.

6—Write only one ad on one piece of paper at least postcard size. Place name of advertiser at top, write words, phrase, poem, slogan, essay or letter. Sign YOUR name and address plainly on BACK of each sheet. Also on the flap of the envelope. SEND TO THE ZAIN AD-WRITING TEST, CARE OF THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH, PITTSBURGH, PA.

7—Ads are to become property of advertiser to use in any manner he sees fit. No ads returned. No subscriptions necessary. No blanks to sign. No entrance fee required. No coupons to clip. All professional ad writers and newspaper employes barred.

8—In the event of a tie, the prizes will be awarded to EACH winner.

SUGGESTIONS

1—Prizes are awarded for ideas. Grammar, punctuation, spelling, or fancy handwriting, layouts, or art work not essential.

2—Study the ads of the firms in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph-Zain campaign. They offer goods or service. They seek ideas. Get your family and friends interested. Write briefly and to the point. A letter, even, may win you a prize.

3—New, original, brief ideas may win prizes or the GRAND PRIZE of $1,000.

4—The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph-Zain Ad Test Editor, Grant 6500, will answer any and all questions.

195 PRIZES WEEKLY READY; BUSINESSES EAGER TO AID

One thousand dollars for an idea!

That is the grand prize in the Zain Ad-Test which The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph is conducting, and you may win it as well as anyone else if you will put your mental apparatus to work at times when it is ordinarily idling. In all, prizes amounting to $15,000 in cash and merchandise will be awarded.

While you are dressing in the morning or undressing at night, at odd moments during the day, at times when your mind is occupied with nothing in particular, put it to work thinking up ideas for ads for the 39 local business concerns that are participating in the Zain Ad-Test.

STORES URGE VISITS

Visit their stores, use their wares. They will be glad to furnish you information for the ads you will write about them. The Sun-Telegraph will help you, also, by offering hints every day or so about the things that might well be emphasized in writing about the individual companies.

So varied and extensive are the lines of merchandise carried by the B. K. Elliott Company, opticians, with stores at 126 Sixth street and 410 Fifth avenue, that you will be able to write interesting ads about them in infinite variety.

One of their products most worthy of your attention is the Uni-Vis Bifocal Glasses, which have been referred to as "the final achievement in bifocals." This is the eyeglass that safeguards your step when going up and down stairs and in and out of elevators and cars.

The services rendered by the Duquesne Light Company will be a fruitful source of ideas for ads. You know what a useful servant of mankind electricity is. Consider the work it does in the home. As a labor-saver it disregards the ancient advice "do one thing at a time."

Your ad about the Lewin-Neiman Company, 305 Smithfield street, will deal with a very timely subject, women's and misses' coats. The Lewin-Neiman Company is "headquarters for coats," and is an exceedingly busy place these days as the approach of cold weather urges women there to purchase coats for themselves and their daughters.

Don't draw on your imagination for material on which to base an ad about the Roosevelt Hotel, but visit the hotel and acquaint yourself with its distinctive features. Note the comfort and elegance.

Have a meal in the Roosevelt dining room; you will be impressed by the good food, the reasonable prices, the attentive and courteous service. The hotel's central location at Penn avenue and Sixth street is another point in its favor.

FOR AUTO DRIVERS

"There's a big difference" between Amoco Gas and other gasoline. Try some of it in your car and observe for yourself its magical effect on the motor. Amoco has power. When it is burned in the engine of your automobile the car responds in a manner that cannot fail to gratify you.

Reymer's candy is so well known and so favorably known that it seems certain many persons will turn in enthusiastic ads about it. Nobody can fail to be enthusiastic about it after tasting Reymer's delicious chocolates and bonbons. Their fine reputation is well deserved.

Reymer's have stores in the Clark Building, the Jenkins Arcade, at 239 Fifth avenue, in the Oliver Building, the Union Trust Building, at 6018 Penn avenue, East End, and at Forbes and Atwood streets.

Read the rules before you write your ad. Read them carefully. SEND YOUR ADS TO THE ZAIN AD-WRITING TEST, CARE OF THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH, PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

QUILT, 75 YEARS OLD, HAS 6,000 PATCHES

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—One of the unusual exhibits at the New Castle fair this year is a quilt 75 years old, which is being displayed by Mrs. E. S. Hill. It contains nearly 6,000 patches of red and white.

AUTO AND GARAGE BURN; OTHER MACHINES SAVED

An automobile and a one-story metal garage were destroyed by fire late yesterday at 400 Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg. Several other machines were saved by employes, who pushed them into the street. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

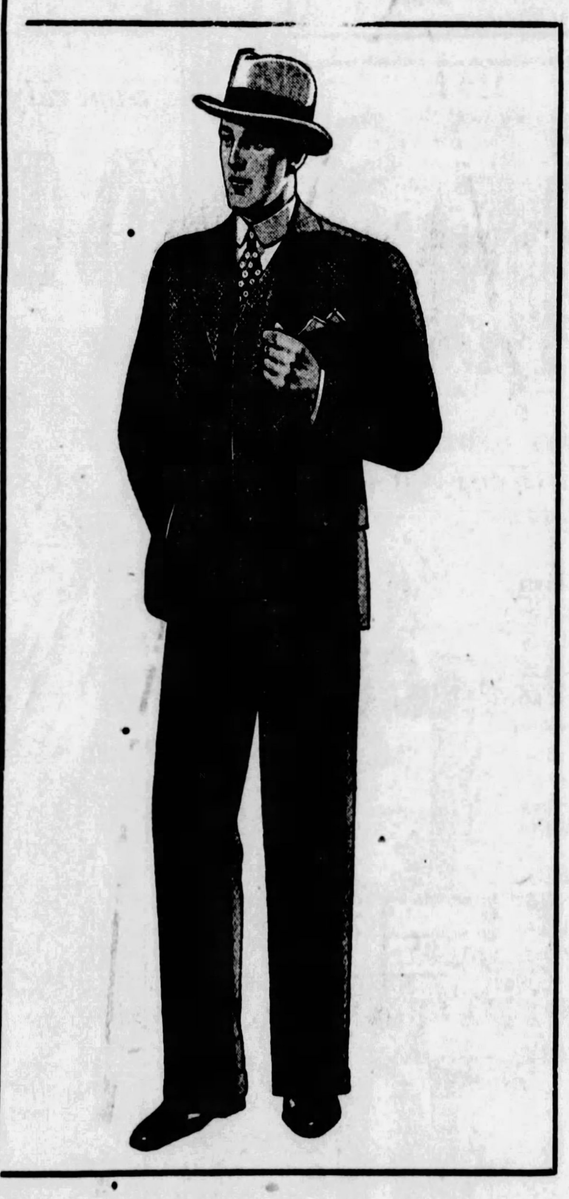
TWO BEAUTIES

Howard shows a wonderful Fall Line

Before Howard's imitators can sell clothes like these for $22.50 they've got to make them. There aren't more than two or three concerns in this business making the clothes they sell. And not one of them puts in the materials and labor that Howard does. We've proved that before. We'll prove it to you. Just come in and look over this new Fall line.



Above Howard's 100% Camel's Hair Topcoat, never before seen at a price under $50. Now $22.50, and as pretty a garment as you ever looked at. Natural, Oxford, Tobacco Brown. All sizes. Alterations free if you need them.

At Right Howard's Wales model, a smart 2-button with moderately wide trousers. Tailored in fabrics that are hard to wear out. Fifty per cent of them have extra trousers.

HOWARD $22.50 CLOTHES

HOWARD sells clothes at one price only. Any garment described in our advertisement is $22.50 in our stores.

NOTED RADIO ARTISTS TO BE HERE FOR SHOW

Artists of the world of radio of international prominence will be here to participate in Pittsburgh's third annual Radio Show next week at Duquesne Garden. The exposition is being conducted under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Radio Trade Association.

Featuring with the programs which will be given every afternoon and evening will be Alois Havrilla, considered America's premier announcer; Graham McNamee, whose voice has described the great sports events to millions; Roxy and his Gang; Vaughn DeLeath, the original radio girl; the DeLuxe Petite Symphony Dance Orchestra, the Sylvan Foresters, the original A. & P. Gypsies and Dewey Bergman and his orchestra. A special afternoon feature from Wednesday on will be play-by-play accounts of the world series baseball games. Other popular entertainers will assist with the programs.

Equally as attractive as the entertainments are the exhibits of the new radio apparatus. Among the features to be demonstrated are the Knowles grid-glow relay and the frequency control and radiophoto apparatus.

BURGLAR GIVEN 3-YEAR TERM

A sentence of three to six years in the penitentiary was pronounced by Judge James B. Drew in Criminal Court late yesterday after hearing a plea of guilty by "Jack" Bernstein, 23, of Aliquippa, for the robbery of two drug stores. He was captured in the cellar of the drug store of R. K. Norman, Freeport road, Creighton, with three cases of whisky and five gallons of alcohol ready to take away. Policeman William Berg, of Avalon, identified Bernstein as the man who had escaped by diving through a window, from the drug store of W. W. Espey, California avenue, Avalon. A second burglar was captured, the alarm having been given the police by Espey.

PRINCIPALS :-: IN OUR OWN SYMPHONY :-: SEASON

Elias Breeskin, Pittsburgh director and violinist, will conduct the second of the Sunday symphony concerts planned for this season by the Pittsburgh Symphony Society.

Charlotte Griffith Ryan, who has sung in Pittsburgh choirs and the Metropolitan Opera, will be the soloist at the third concert, which will be directed by Eugene Goossens.

Emil Oberhoffer, conductor of concerts in the Hollywood Bowl, formerly conductor of the Minneapolis Orchestra, will direct the final concert of the season, April 7, 1929.

Eugene Goossens will conduct the first concert, October 28, and the third program, February 3, 1929. Cyrena Van Gordon will be the soloist in the society's opening concert.

FOUR SUNDAY CONCERTS

Guest conductors and artists have been engaged by the Pittsburgh Symphony Society for the four Sunday concerts planned for the coming season.

Eugene Goosens will conduct the first concert, October 27, with Cyrena Van Gordon as soloist.

Elias Breeskin, Pittsburgh artist, now conducting the Penn Theater Orchestra, will conduct the second concert, with Effrem Zimbalist as soloist.

The third concert will mark the first appearance in Pittsburgh since her engagement with the Metropolitan Opera Company of Charlotte Griffith Ryan. She was born in Sharon, Pa., and made her home in New Castle, where she sang in the church choirs before coming to Pittsburgh. In Pittsburgh she sang in the choirs of some of the leading churches of the city, her voice attracting such attention that she was booked by the Metropolitan Opera Company, where she is now entering her seventh season. Eugene Goosens will conduct this concert, which will take place February 3, 1929.

The final concert on April 7, 1929, will bring Emil Oberhoffer, conductor of the concerts in the Hollywood Bowl. Mr. Oberhoffer fas conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra for 18 years. He was one of the first conductors of the Hollywood Bowl concerts, and has returned regularly each season. Alexander Brailowsky, pianist, will be the soloist for this concert.

It is still possible to enroll in the society by applying at 1421 Park Building, memberships being available particularly in the following classes: Active, $25 or more; associate, Class A, $15; associate, Class B, $10. Each member will receive two seats for each of the four concerts free of charge. Members must enroll for the entire season, as it is not possible to obtain admission to any or all of the concerts except by enrolling as a member.

VERDICT HELD EXCESSIVE

On the ground that the verdict of $19,500 was excessive, Judges James R. Macfarlane, Thomas J. Ford and J. M. Swearingen have ordered a new trial in the case of E. Bertha DeFord against the Pittsburgh Railways Company. She asserts she was severely hurt by falling in a crosstown car, when the car started suddenly. The railways company charged she was negligent in permitting herself to stumble over a suitcase.

The railways company obtained two non-suits in claims for $55,000. Annie Durkin, who charges she was injured June 7, 1926, by being thrown from a car at Craig and Forbes street and sued for $50,000, did not appear. The same was true of Joseph F. Dixon, who had said he was hurt when thrown from a Highland avenue car February 12, 1926. Dixon demanded $5,000 damages.

Revealing the Innermost Pulsings of the Heart of Hollywood, Not Forgetting the News About Local Amusements

Richard Arlen Joins List Of Lads Trying to Square Fistic Circle for Pictures

By REGINA CREWE.

(Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.

THE epidemic of fight films continues. The latest addition is a story called "The Man I Love." In it, Richard Arlen will join William Haines, Larry Kent and the rest as a hero of the prize ring. It seems that Paramount has discovered that Dick's physique is too great an asset to be lost under Hollywood tailoring. Nancy Carroll is to be the girl.

There is a well authenticated story afoot here that Gene Tunney was approached by one of the big picture producers to make a film telling his life story and its romance. Gene entered into negotiation with this organization prior to the announcement of his engagement, and then suddenly decided that he would postpone any definite decision until his return from Europe. So, if the wife and "in-laws" don't object, Gene may knock off a few hundred thousand extra via the cinema route. He isn't exactly a novice before the camera—even the motion picture camera—as he has already appeared as the star of a successful film.

The steady improvement in the vehicles chosen by Warner Brothers for translation into Vitaphone productions, is immensely significant when considering the brilliant future admittedly awaiting this type of entertainment. It is not confirmed that the Italian classic, "The Jest," will be one of the first Vitaphone pictures in which John Barrymore will appear under his Warner contract. The stage play, produced perenially abroad, met sensational acclaim in New York when it was produced with both John and Lionel in the cast. This was several seasons ago. It is understood that if it is possible to borrow Lionel from the Metro people for the picture, he will appear with John, each acting the role created on the American stage.

"The Jest," produced in Vitaphone, will be the most ambitious undertaking thus far determined upon. It indicates that the Warners plan quality as well as quantity of productions in the new medium of the singing screen.

Texas Guinan, now starring in the Warner Vitaphone picture, "The Night Club Hostess," says she, herself, in person, played the role of cupid in the romance of Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler, which culminated in wedding bells and a European honeymoon. Tex says she discovered Ruby tap-dancing in an obscure New York spot and engaged her for one of the night clubs. Here she was introduced by Tex to Broadway's "Mammy Boy," but they were only bowing acquaintances until Ruby came to Hollywood in quest of a film career. Then romance budded and blossomed. Tex says it must be the climate.

As usual the film folk are to the fore in extending a hand of help to the hurricane sufferers. Their names are prominent in all collection lists and they never hesitate an instant in rendering their services at benefits and the like. The latest is that Tom Mix, Lew Cody and Jimmy Hall have volunteered to referee a series of boxing bouts being held to help the homeless.

List among the ill and injured: Larry Semon, Bobby Vernon and Buddy Messenger, all comedians. Poor Larry is desperately ill on the desert. Bobby has had to undergo an operation on his spine as a result of hundreds of "funny falls" which aren't so funny to him now, and Buddy is the latest victim of appendicitis.

Everyone is saying nice things about Doris Dawson, who graduated from a comedy lot to the position of Harry Langdon's leading woman in "Heart Trouble." Doris is now playing in Alice White's second starring vehicle, "Ritzie Rosie," and making a hit for herself.

The title of Bebe Daniels' newspaper story is "The Big Scoop" and Bebe is cast in the role of a "Sobbie." Welcome, sister!

Clark and McCullough are bright boys. But this didn't keep Bobby Clark from pulling a boner when he introduced Louise Dresser after the brilliant premiere of "Mother Knows Best." After a big build-up speech, Bobby, with appropriate gestures, named the actress "Elinor Dressler" and the whole audience shouted her right name back at him. Imagine his embarrassment! Louise got a mighty hand, and enough flowers to open a shop.

BENEFIT SHOW TONIGHT

There will be a special midnight show in the Academy tonight and the entire recipts will be turned over by Manager George Jaffe to the Red Cross for the benefit of the Florida and West Indies storm sufferers.

The presentation by the Theater Guild next week in the Nixon is to be Ben Johnson's old comedy, "Volpone." It serves to introduce to the American public the art of Stefan Zweig, European author and playwright, who is chiefly responsible for the revival of the old Ben Jonson play.

The second and final week's engagement of Schwab and Mandel's collegiate musical comedy, "Good News," opens Monday in the Alvin. There will be a matinee tomorrow and the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees next week, the engagement closing on Saturday night, October 6.

The feature of the Keith-Albee vaudeville in the Davis next week will be three original members of Hal Roach's "Our Gang," film comedy kids, appearing in person in a little playlet.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Chill Days Fill Society Matrons With Zeal to Plan Parties

FOR a while, didn't you think, it looked as though we were going to have a long, rather eventless social season, but just lately this invigorating cold weather has filled many a society matron with zeal, and this zeal has led her to plan entertainments for the coming weeks. I don't believe, however, that we are going to have a season quite as vivid as that of last year. Just about every other year there must be a little more calm, everyone seems to think. There are going to be some notable debut parties, and since there are fewer debbies than there were last year, the entertainments, or at least some of them, will be a little less formal. Of course one's debut tea can't escape formality, but after a whole summer of vigorous disregard for dignified entertainment, it will be a bit of a relief, don't you think?

One of the popular buds of the season, I prophesy, will be attractive Elizabeth McCullough, daughter of Mrs. William T. McCullough, of Bennington avenue. Elizabeth, we mentioned some time ago, will make her bow at a tea her mother will give November 2 in the Longue Vue Club.

Another event planned in her honor I heard of just last night—Mrs. Samuel Alfred McClung, of Murrayhill avenue, will give a luncheon in her home October 8 for Elizabeth. Mrs. McClung last year brought out her daughter, Mary Mellon McClung, I recall.

FOLKS are arriving in town to attend the wedding of Louise McConway, daughter of the junior William McConway, of South Linden avenue, and Stanley Overholt Law, son of the Carl C. Laws, of South Graham street, which will take place, almost needless to mention, tomorrow.

Judge and Mrs. Robert A. Stotz, Carolyn Stotz, and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Correll, of Easton, are coming, and Josephine Thayer, of Stanford, Conn.; the Allen Hazen's, of Dobbs Ferry, and Mrs. E. L. Cheyney, of Cleveland.

The rehearsal dinner will be given tonight in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association by the bride's sister and brother-in-law, the junior Charles T. Sieberts.

IN early fall just about everybody goes to New York for a week or two, and sees all the new shows and meets friends, and then comes back for the winter season at home. Priscilla Barnes, daughter of the G. Webber Barneses, of Howe street, are in New York now. She'll be back Monday, I believe. Her engagement to William W. Whitcomb, son of Mrs. Baird Young, of Pittsburgh, and the late Eugene P. Whitcomb, was announced in July, don't you remember?

THE Charles Flacusses, of Red Gable Farm, are spending the week in New York, stopping at the Savoy-Plaza. Charles Flaccus, Jr., returned to Harvard this week, by the way.

THE William B. Schillers have closed their home in Sewickley Heights, I hear, and have gone to New York for a few days, before coming to Pittsburgh to open their winter home.

THE Henry Horbostels, of the Schenley Apartments, have returned from Europe.

And another member of society home again is Mrs. John M. Milliken, who has just returned from Philadelphia.

Still another "returned home" Pittsburgh woman is Mrs. John F. Walton, who is back from Bobcaygeon, Ontario, Canada.

Mrs. William C. Chaplin is back at the Schenley Apartments after being at Howells Point, Trappe, Md.

MISS THELMA and Miss Helen Blackmore, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Blackmore, of Northumberland street, entertained yesterday with a bridge luncheon in the Longue Vue Country Club in honor of Miss Anne L. Susman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Susman, of Beacon street. Miss Susman's marriage to James Finch Kirk will be solemnized October 15.

* * *

MISS SARAH REID, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Reid, of the East End, has returned home after visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, of Brush Creek road, Manor, Pa.

THE marriage of Miss Margaret K. Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stuart, of Ocean avenue, Dormont, and James R. Raymond, son of William Raymond, of Bellefonte, will be solemnized today at 4:30 o'clock in the Knoxville Methodist Protestant Church by the Rev. Dr. A. E. Fletcher. Miss Elsa Schmitt will be maid of honor, and Alfred Gardner is to be best man. A dinner in the Stuart home will follow the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond will take a southern motor trip and after November 1 will be at home in Ocean avenue.

THE Woman's Athletic Association of the University of Pittsburgh will hold its annual co-ed prom for the freshman women tonight in the Heinz House. The upper classwomen will serve as escorts to the freshmen. Miss Grace Austen is chairman, with Miss Frances Stillwell in charge of refreshments; Miss Betty Baker, programs; Miss Fannie Mae Charlesworth, novelties, and Miss Katherine Young, entertainment.

FEDERATION TO MEET OCT. 8 IN LANCASTER

DURING the second week in October interest in club circles will be centered in Lancaster where the thirty-third annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women will be held. Clubs in the city will send delegates, and in addition a number of Pittsburgh women who are federation officers will attend the conference, to be held October 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Among the speakers will be Mme. Halide Edib Hanum, of Turkey, the only woman lecturer this year at the Williamstown conference, and a student, writer and political leader in her own country; Herbert Johnson, the cartoonist; Mrs. John F. Sippel, of Baltimore, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mme. Marie Jonnesco, of Rumania, and many other persons prominent in the world of music, art and government.

THE Lee Community Club's program for the year, beginning with a reception for the president on October 8, will be devoted principally to community activities. The club, assisted by the Lee Community Board of Trade, will hold a street festival and barbecue in Shiras avenue, October 22. Other social affairs include a benefit luncheon and card party, a round table tea, community children's Christmas party, tea for girls' auxiliary and the annual club luncheon. Addresses and lectures will be given before the club by Gwilym A. Price, the Rev. Waldo A. Amos, Mrs. Anna Marshall McCracken and Dr. J. Gordon Ogden.

A feature of the year will be a prize essay contest limited to the eighth grade pupils of Lee School. Prizes will be awarded for the 10 best essays on "Lee Community Beautiful." Prizes will also be given club members in a contest for the most artistic arrangement of flowers. The prizes are the gift of Mrs. Joseph G. Moorhead, president of the club.

One evening of the year will be devoted to a program given by community talent. The program committee includes all committee chairmen, with Mrs. Charles H. Richards, first vice president, as program chairman. Mrs. A. J. Rogers is secretary of publicity.

THE South Hills College Club will hold a motion picture show for the benefit of its scholarship fund at the Washington School, Washington road, Mt. Lebanon, on Friday, October 5. Two performances are scheduled, one at 7:15 and the other at 9:15.

The scholarship committee in charge of the ticket sale comprises Mrs. James Balph, Jr., Miss Margaret Miller and Mrs. J. B. Nicklas, Jr.

Scholarships have been given each year since the club was organized to graduates of Dormont High School to apply toward tuition in any accredited college or university in the United States. This is the first time since the club was organized, five years ago, that it has appealed to the public for the scholarship fund.

"A Ship Comes In" is the feature picture, besides a comedy and a news reel.

MIZPAH CHAPTER No. 49, Order of the Eastern Star, celebrated its twenty-second anniversary last night with a reception and musicale in Memorial Hall. Mrs. Mary E. White is worthy matron of the chapter and Mrs. Jennie Wood is the "mother of the chapter," having founded it in 1906. The musical program was given by Mrs. Edith Harris Scott, reader; Mrs. Henrietta Bodycombe, pianist; Mrs. Elsie Breese Mitchell, soprano, and Joseph Teryney, violinist. The honor guests were past matrons and patrons of the chapter.

THE Congress of Clubs choral will hold its first rehearsal of the season on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Any woman interested may try out, according to Mrs. Elsie Breese Mitchell, chairman of the music department. Earl B. Collins is the director, and Bertha Gross King, the accompanist.

The opening luncheon of the music department will be October 31 when Dr. Charles N. Boyd, director of the Pittsburgh Musical Institute, will be the speaker.

CLOSE ISLAND SPAN MONDAY

Coraopolis-Neville Island bridge will be closed to traffic for four days beginning at 7 a. m. Monday to allow for the shifting of the Coraopolis approach truss to its final position, county commissioners announce.

Traffic will be admitted to the bridge by way of Fourth avenue, Coraopolis, next Thursday. Ferree street approach, because of radical changes, will not be completed for about six weeks.

Through west-bound traffic was advised to use the road on the north side of the river, crossing the river over Sewickley bridge. An optional route west and south west will be available through Crafton.

MAYOR MEETS THE MONOCYCLE

This is the monocycle—its proper name—that Mayor Kline met in City County Building in a demonstration by Vincent Ceccarini (in saddle), cousin of its inventor, Joseph Ceccarini, Milan, Italy. One steers the thing by shifting the center of gravity, an action similar to that of a motorcycle rider. Ceccarini rode the monocycle here from Johnstown and plans to ride it to California and later to South America. Here also are Dr. Chevalier Giurato, Italian consul in Pittsburgh; Mayor Kline and Arthur Robsey. The monocycle has been placed on display at the Studebaker Sales Company, Baum boulevard.

Hold Storekeeper in Murder

SLAYING IS LAID TO RUM SALE

George Soknich, storekeeper, of 2909 Carson street, was held for court by Magistrate John W. Orie in Morals Court today, after a 14-year-old boy testified a pop bottle of moonshine purchased at Soknich's place led to a murder on the South Side yesterday.

The boy, Eli Pilja, testified he had bought the liquor for 50 cents for his father, Sam Pilja. In an argument over it at Pilja's home, rear 2905 Carson street, the elder Pilja is alleged to have stabbed to death Anthony Savat, 40, of 2847 Carson street. Police testified they had raided Soknich's place and had found a jug, but no liquor.

Pilja, 40, of 2905 Carson street, arrested after Stoyana Sabat, 40, of Weirton, W. Va., had been found stabbed to death in the Pilja home yesterday, today signed a statement, police say, admitting the fatal stabbing. According to members of the homicide squad, Pilja said he stabbed Sabat because he found the latter and Mrs. Pilja in a compromising position. He said Sabat had fed him liquor over a long period and had taken advantage of his helpless condition to ruin his home.

CHURCH KILLER FIGHTS FOR NEW TRIAL

Arguments on a motion for a new trial for Fayette J. Tyrrell, convicted of second degree murder September 15 for the slaying of Philip F. Clark, in the First Christian Church, Munhall, were made today in the presence of the lawyer-Sunday school superintendent defendant.

Tyrrell was taken from jail this morning to the same courtroom in which a jury pronounced him guilty of Allegheny county's first "church murder" last May 13—Mother's day.

Judge Robert A. Stotz, of Northampton, trial judge, along with Judge C. D. Copeland, of Westmoreland county, and Judge Josiah Cohen, of the local court, were on the bench.

SAYS COURT ERRED

For Tyrrell, Attorney J. T. Hoffman reviewed the circumstances of the slaying. He argued the court had erred in ruling out testimony regarding threats which Clark had made against Tyrrell which had not been communicated to the latter.

"These threats," contended Hoffman, "were strongly corroborative of the threats of which Tyrrell had been made aware."

Attorney W. H. Coleman also addressed the court in behalf of a new trial for Tyrrell. Assistant District Attorney J. F. Haggerty, who prosecuted the case, argued against granting a retrial.

Attorney Coleman, one of Tyrrell's defense attorneys, stated, after the final arguments in Tyrrell's appeal for a new trial had been heard, that if a new trial wasn't granted an appeal to the Supreme Court would be made.

Attacked 3 Times in 12 Days

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—(AP.)—Life for Anthony Giancane, owner of an ice cream plant, has developed into just one attack after another.

Within 12 days three violent gestures have been made against him, the third one last night. Twelve days ago a bomb exploded at the rear entrance of his plant. Wednesday night the bombers went around to the front dor and tossed another. These bombs resulted in several thousand dollars' damage, not only to the plant but to the buildings in the neighborhood.

Last night the enemy became personal. Three armed men drove up to the ice cream factory, in front of which Giancane was seated with two friends. The visitors opened fire but Giancane and one of his companions, Russell Russo, put so much distance betwen themselves and their attackers that they escaped uninjured. Tony Grinelda was somewhat slower, and a shotgun slug caught him in the leg.

Giancane says he cannot understand why he should be attacked.

River Girl Beaten in Attack

Unconscious from blows which had been rained on her head, and her face covered with a newspaper, Margaret Nolan, 20, occupant of an Ohio River houseboat at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue, was found by a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman along the tracks at Preble and Pennsylvania averues.

She was taken home and attended by Dr. E. E. Neeley, while police and detectives of the homicide squad searched the vicinity.

After being revived the girl told her mother that she was returning from a moving picture show about 9 o'clock last night and has just crossed the railroad tracks when an unidentified man grabbed her and began beating her over the head with a club. The girl's mother furnished the police with the name of a man she says might have been responsible for the attack.

Wife Sues Mate Wearing Shoes To Bed

"When the meals didn't suit him he went to bed, frequently with his shoes on," testified Mrs. Nancy Elliott, 1039 Warrington avenue, in divorce proceedings today against Harold J. Elliott. They were married in 1914 and separated in 1921, she told Judge George V. Moore, who conducted the hearing.

Weather Conditions.

The Plains states high now covers the states east of the Mississippi, with its highest pressure, 30.14 inches, over the Ohio River from Louisville to Parkersburg. The skies are mostly clear throughout its area, and the temperatures are nearly the same as yesterday with a tendency toward rising. Light to heavy frost occurred over Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Northern Illinois, Eastern Iowa and Wisconsin.

Relatively low pressure covers the Plains states this morning, and, as a result, the temperatures are from 6 to 16 degrees higher than yesterday, although they are still freezing or below over North Dakota and Montana, and northward over Canada.

River Conditions.

There was little change in river stages during the last 24 hours. Stage at Pittsburgh is 9.8 feet; Dam No. 2, 8.4, and Dam No. 6, 7.6 feet. The dams are up.

6 Indicted In Vote Fraud

Another election board stands indicted for alleged fraud in the September, 1927, primaries.

The grand jury late yesterday found a true bill against the board of the Eighth District of Stowe township.

Those indicted include August Weiser, judge; Samuel Williams and Quintillia Racchione, inspectors; Florence Crawford and Edna Craig, clerks, and George Panno, inspector.

The indictment cits many instances in which it is alleged a fraudulent count of the votes was returned, some of them being:

ZEPPELIN OFF FOR U. S. NEXT WEEK, WINDS DECIDE ROUTE

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Sept. 28.—With the departure for America of Germany's new air liner on its inaugural passenger and mail trans-Atlantic flight now scheduled for the end of next week, Dr. Hugo Eckener, and the chief navigation officer, Capt. Hans C. Flemming, the Zeppelin "weather wizard," today began to intensively study the daily weather charts.

Aside from the professional meteorologists, few persons watch the weather and winds so closely or know so much about them as do the commander and officers of the Count Zepplin. Dr. Eckener is greatly disturbed by the delay caused by the gas making concern.

He declared:

"With the weather and favorable winds of the last three days, we could have made New York in 48 hours."

On its trans-Atlantic flight, the Leviathan of the air will receive whether reports from Washington, from Hamburg and from the Eiffel Tower in Paris, as well as from ships on the ocean.

Eckener expressed his appreciation for the offer of a special weather service by the government meteorological bureau at Washington, and the co-operation of the American Navy Department. He expressed a hope, however, that the routine weather reports would answer his purpose.

If weather such as that of the last five days should prevail, the airship would take the shortest course by the way of Ireland and Nova Scotia. But should contrary winds prevail, Dr. Eckener expects to steer for the Azores first.

GAS FOR 120 HOURS

The air liner will be refuelled for 120 hours as against the 100 of the Los Angeles when it crossed the Atlantic.

Prominent guests will participate today on the new cruiser's fourth flight, which, if clouds or fog do not obscure, will be of 750 miles.

Among the guests will be Herr Loebe, president of the Reichstag, Katrina Von Sheimb Kardorf, noted feminist, and Maj. Scott, of the British Air Ministry.

ON TRIAL FLIGHT

International News Service.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Sept. 28.—The new super-dirigible Count Zeppelin ascended at 7:04 a. m. today on another trial flight during which the new "blue gas" fuel may be tried out for the first time.

Although it was not announced before the start that the new fuel would be used, 1,200 cubic meters of the gas were taken aboard.

There were 27 guests aboard, including several women and Commander Rosendahl, of the United States dirigible Los Angeles; two British air experts, President Paul Loebe, of the Reichstag; several other members of that body, and other government officials.

Augsberg, Germany, Sept. 28.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, builder of the giant new dirigible Count Zeppelin, broadcast a speech by radio while the airship was passing over here this afternoon between 1 and 2 o'clock. The dirigible came from the direction of Regensberg and turned towards its home base at Friedrichshafen.

WOMAN ALONE, HOME 'STONED'

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—Iron bolt nuts, believed to have been flung by a sling-shot, shattered two windows in the home of J. Fred Kurtz and narrowly missed Mrs. Kurtz.

Alone at home at night, she heard footsteps on the front porch and an instant later a window crashed. She ran upstairs to a telephone to summon police when a second missile shattered a window and whizzed past her head. When police arrived no one could be found.

HELD IN RASKOB THREAT NOTE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—(AP.)—William Goldberg, 25, is held in $25,000 bail for court, charged with conspiracy in the attempted extortion of $100,000 from Mrs. John J. Raskob, wife of the Democratic national committee chairman.

The principal witness against Goldberg yesterday was Francis C. Mooney, formerly of Wilmington, Del., who pleaded guilty last Tuesday to an attempt to extort the money and to writing several threatening letters, in one of which he threatened to blow up the Raskob home at Claymont, Del., unless his demands were met.

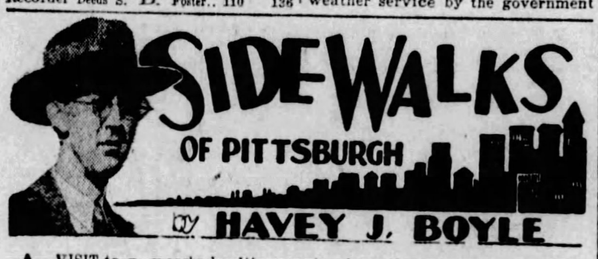
MINE EMPLOYE FOUND SLAIN

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Sept. 28.—Charles O. Eggan, 30, stable boss at Mine No. 4 of the Midvale Coal Company, about five miles south of here, was found dead, apparently shot, in the stable early today. It is feared the man was murdered.

The body was found by a fellow workman, Jack Thomas. It was lying in a stall, within a foot or so of a pony. A wound, resembling a revolver bullet wound, was noted behind the man's left ear. An autopsy has been ordered by Coroner J. F. Lewis.

Eggan was married and had a 2-year-old son.

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH



By HAVEY J. BOYLE

A VISIT to a nearby health resort, where the waters are reliably reported as having some of the qualities that Ponce De Leon sought in his memorable quest, causes a little reflection on the number of healthy persons who are always seeking health and the number of sick people who don't seem to worry much about it.

* * *

At the resort in question there walked around the premises men, thoroughly tanned, looking as hard as iron, and perfectly fit. The ladies present seemed, too, to be fit as the traditional fiddle. At that health resort they all looked as if they'll have to be shot to escape registering 100 years.

* * *

AN ATTENDANT at the place confided that quite a number of these people move from one spa to another, the year 'round, fearful that if they don't watch out their pulse some day may register only 71 instead of the perfect 72 or possibly go off on a gallop and click at the rate of 73.

Obviously, most of the patients had quite a bit of mazuma, else they could not afford the luxury of embryonic nervous breakdowns, high blood pressure, or varicose veins.

There mustn't be anything more depressing than to have all the money one needs so that the only fun in life one gets is worrying how long one will live to enjoy it. Those of us who feel the hot breath of the sheriff on our neck around the first of every month at least get some satisfaction out of the fact that this robs the grave of a little of its victory.

IN CONTRAST are the number of persons who must work or not live, following St. Paul's warning, who are really ill, but who resort to many artifices to hide it. One thing they miss is some of the worry. They are not worrying so much about living as about how long they can keep on working.

A friend shows a letter received from Chauncey Olcott, famed Irish tenor, the mention of whose name, even if he must be past 70 now, will start many a fair and romantic heart going pit-a-pat. Mr. Olcott in the course of his letter says Pittsburgh is one of his favorite towns. He recalled that he was the only star who played Pittsburgh two weeks straight and——to capacity audiences.

His letter-head notes that the name of his estate in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., is Inniscarra. This is named after a town in Ireland, about which he used to sing in a song entitled: "In Sweet Inniscarra."

OLCOTT is in retirement now and it is nice to know that after many tempestuous times over a long period he successfully evaded the British soldiers, who as this memory has it, were the most inconsiderate soldiers we ever saw. As a rule soldiers, themselves, are not adverse to a little love-making, but so mean were the British soldiers they were always climbing through a trapdoor or an open window just as Chauncey was giving a fair colleen a bit of a hug.

Their perfidy extended even beyond that. In those moments when Chauncey was crooning an echo of a lullaby his Irish mother sang, while the white-capped old lady sat contentedly knitting as she listened, the British soldiers would slide down a pole or appear suddenly from behind a curtain. But, thank Heaven, Chauncey always got away. There were times when things looked dark, and those of us in the darkened gallery, as we munched nervously at an apple, feared the jig was up, but always around 11 o'clock Chauncey was triumphant and the soldiers of the king were discomfitted.

GLORY BARN READY SUNDAY; HEALING SERVICE TONIGHT

Preparations are being completed today for the largest meeting yet held in the Glory Barn, West Carson street. This will take place tonight when Evangelist John W. Sproul will hold a healing service.

Indications point to an unusually large crowd in attendance, although the gatherings during the week have been well attended and the one wing of the barn used at present is now too small for the meetings.

Workmen plan to have the barn finished for the Sunday service. The large staff of carpenters worked on the roof yesterday, closing up the central gap, the final work before the building is completed. When finished the barn will accommodate 15,000 people.

The healing meeting tonight is looked forward to with great enthusiasm by the regular attendants. Wednesday night several persons said they had been cured of ills through the faith, prayer and blessing they received by attending the revival.

The crowd last night, estimated at about 1,500 persons, all crowded into the one wing.

"WEDDING GUEST" TOPIC

The evangelist's topic last night was "The Wedding Guest," taken from Matthew 22:10.

Mr. Sproul said in part:

"Jesus illustrates His message from life with the startling suggestion of an invitation spurned. He called His hearers' attention to their own attitude toward the Heavenly Father's love. Jesus, Heaven's representative, God's own Son. "Came unto his own, and his own received Him not."

"Few of those who heard Him recognized the Messiah. Today the same class are found among the children of godly parents—dedicated to God from their birth, prayed for by loving parents, listening to the Gospel from childhood. They are yet unsaved. 'Many are called but few are chosen.'

"A second class made light of the divine invitation. A third class was violently opposed. They would not be bothered. They had no patience with religion.

"However, the end of the feast was a glorious success. The wedding was provided guests. If the Pharisee will not come—perhaps the sinner will come."

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 28.

The whole campaign has switched from Hoover and Smith to Mrs. Willebrandt.

Now, I used to think that no one in the world could possibly make a poorer speech than some man politician, but after attending both conventions and various dinners and public affairs, I have found that any woman politician can make a poorer political speech than a man any time they try.

I don't know why it is, but it just looks like the wrong women are in politics for I have heard other women on other subjects make brilliant speeches.

I believe their cause would get further if they would just vote and not try to explain publicly why.

Yours, WILL.

P. S. Charles Curtis' daughter at Kansas City was the only exception, and I don't think she is in politics.

Bea Begs Her Husband Not to Desert Her, Following Quarrel

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

On his first day in Manor Park, where he is to apply the business methods learned in college, Benjamin Carrington Black has occasion to observe three of the suburban town's most alluring examples of feminity. Unnoticed by men, he sees Dianna Rand—nineteen and pretty, enter a jewelry store with her friend, Beatrice Sheldon, whose trailing dress is reminiscent of the Gay Nineties. In the store Diana and Bea encounter Ann Evarts, a trim, petite person. Ann in Diana's roadster sees Noddy and Toddy and Norman Gregory and leaves Diana and Beatrice to join them. Bea and her brother, Freddie, prepare for the party at the Yacht Club. Benny also attends the party where Diana and her friends meet him. Benny is fascinated by the quiet Ann, who makes believe that she does not like "wild" parties. Diana, after the party, tells her mother all about Benny. She meets him several times and falls in love with him. Mrs. Evarts is anxious that her daughter, Ann, fall in love with Benny. However, he is afraid he is falling in love with Diana. Ann tells Norman that Beatrice has a past. At North Lake where the crowd are for a week, Norman questions Bea about her past and she confesses. Later they get married. Diana dreams of the future when Benny professes his love for her. Diana is heartbroken when she receives an invitation to Ann and Benny's wedding. Benny and Ann get married and leave for a long honeymoon abroad. They return from their honeymoon. Freddie visits Ann on the same day she returns from her honeymoon, but Benny is unaware of this.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

APPROACHING jauntily, they battered at one of the long windows, Beatrice perforce must get up, open the window for them to come in pell-mell, driven by a gust of wind and rain.

"Your invitation today was so cordial we just had to come over!" breezed the two, while Freddie grinned.

He was not quite sober, Diana judged, aching for the other girl's confusion. She wanted to explain in a casual way to Norman that the boys were with her when she met his wife. But his jaw was set; he was white and tense, staring at them so.

"Want a drink," Freddie began. "Got a cold 'n' want a drink. Gimme a drink, Bea. Wha's matter, Norm, ole Gloomy Gus? Go on, give y' family-in-law a drink, can't y'? Sure. Give ev'body a drink!"

Norman stepped through the living room and returned with a tray, coming in just as Noddy bent over his wife to tell her some joke in an airy, intimate manner. The fear which went flushing up her cheeks seemed like guilt to his suspicious eyes; he ignored her little, pleading smile, turning abruptly to the task of mixing highballs.

"Anybody seen Ann!" Freddie chattered. And when his sister answered hurriedly that they did not meet Ann these days, he waggled his head, sniggering. "Don't be too sure, nossir, don't be too sure. Lil' Ann's a'right. Guess some'n sees her some'n not a million miles from here."

He sent a knowing smirk around, and Noddy and Toddy, now in possession of highballs, guffawed. "Here," toasted Noddy, "is to wives—other men's wives!"

The effect was that of a bomb tossed down to explode in their midst. Norman's glass crashed on the table; Beatrice cringed; Diana came to her feet, shaking.

And Noddy and Toddy, startled and perhaps dimly realizing the situation, suddenly were serious, painfully contrite. "Oh, I say! We'd forgot you and Bea, Norman. Sorry—dreadfully sorry—"

"What's matter?" muttered Freddie.

"Nothing!" Norman's voice cut like a whip. "That toast has the proper modern ring. Why not complete it? 'To the paramours of wives!'"

Beatrice closed her fingers on the table edge, held hard; even Freddie was sobered. "That's going too far, Norm. That's too much——"

"Oh, no!" His smile ghastly. "Don't take all the honors, Freddie. It's a family toast. Here's to it!"

Freddie stumbled to his feet. For a second Diana thought he was about to swing his fist into his brother-in-law's face. But Norman looked very strong, very dangerous.

"Oh, well—you're only joking." Freddie laughed weakly and looked about for his hat. "Got to get along. Coming, fellas?"

The three took leave self-consciously, averting their eyes under the lash of Norman's words. "Come again: I'm sure you're always welcome!"

They went out into the rain, and Diana stood in a tingling horror while Beatrice laid a hand on her husband's arm. "Dearest, isn't it time you dressed for dinner? It's"——

He wrenched away, moved to the other girl, towered there. "Diana!"

"Yes, Norman."

"You're getting a liberal education in 'How to behave when a wife.' Courses personally conducted by Ann and"— He could not speak his wife's name, but he glanced toward her sagging shoulders, her stricken eyes. Then, with a shrug, he stalked out, caught up his coat, made for the door.

Beatrice rushed to him, threw herself upon him, clutched his arms, sobbing: "Don't—oh, don't, Norman! Not in this rain! Please, darling—how can you do this to me? Oh"——

Without a backward glance he went on, leaving her there alone with the rain beating at her.

Diana went to her finally, closed the door, led her to a cushion before the open grate.

Far into the night they sat there, Beatrice clinging to her friend, whispering through chattering teeth: "Do you think he'll come back, Di? Oh, do you think he'll come back?" And Diana repeating: "Of course, Bea. Yes, of course, he w[illegible] smoothing rain-drops from the dark head, chafing the limp hands, trying to caress away a hopelessness that was like death. Of course, Bea"—

But she wondered. After this the things which had been said, the sheer ruthlessness of it all—would it be best for Norman Gregory to return to his wife?

Could Beatrice go on loving him if he did?

CHAPTER XXIII.

DAYS dribbled into weeks and weeks stretched into months. Winter powdered Manor Park with snow; spread ermine on tamaracks and pines, and laid a smooth white counterpane upon the lawns, tucking it neatly in at the river edge.

Palms were moved from the great fireplace at the Yacht Club and logs laid in their stead and lighted, to blaze merrily while the young folk romped through holidays and mi-careme.

Then the sun turned golden and spring rains came and carried away the white, sprinkling forsythia shrubs with yellow, coaxing tulips and hyacinth and jonquils to spread fragrant rainbows over every lawn.

And now it was April, and Ann Black was wondering about the luxury of her suite at the Manor Arms, pausing to scowl at the silver bowl with the blithe winged Mercury on the side; turning her head to snap at Hanna, who once again had come in unannounced, planting herself in the biggest and most inviting chair.

Not quite the delicate figure of a few months back, this Ann who slouched in a kimono, polishing her nails, picking up a mirror to study her profile. A vague hint of fullness beneath the dainty chin, which blurred her face a trifle; also the mere suggestion of a mottled look across the cheeks, ever so slightly puffy early in the morning and late at night. The same blur had descended upon her form; a something almost intangible, to threaten the fairy slenderness with Hanna's stocky solidity.

And the blue eyes seemed not so wide and childish as once they had been. At this moment, indeed, they were so like her mother's that any save that lady herself would have found the resemblance startling.

"But I tell you," she was saying, "that I never put my hands on any cash." And, though unaware of it, the husky rasp in her voice would have done credit to one of Hanna's tantrums. "Any way, I'm tired of your everlasting snooping around and gold-digging. I'm through!" she cried petulantly.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, September 29

THE planetary configurations for this day point to events and occurrences in which intrigue or conspiracy may figure or in which the unconventional and eccentric may manifest. This applies to negotiations with secret orders or combines as well as striking a dominant note in purely personal affairs. Fine arts and ideals may react to the strong Neptunian vibrations and things generally may have a disquieting condition. Employment is jeopardized.

Those whose birthday it is are under the forecast of a peculiar year in which intrigue or stratagem may rule and in which affairs may have an unsettled or disquieting nature. Personal affairs may strike a high note. Be careful if in employment.

A child born on this day may have singular talents and high artistic proclivities, in which it may succeed better than in employment. It may have an eventful and spectacular career.

The heart of man is ruled by a multitude of powers; their hold upon it is due to karmic debts.

The Last Rose -:- By Madge Geyer

THE last rose—and the loveliest. All alone waiting for the time to come when she, too, will wither and fade as have all her other sisters. Sad, to watch this and sadder to wonder how the poor little rose feels. But she's not going away forever and ever. Just to take a nice long Winter nap so that she may waken in the Spring lovelier and more enticing than ever.

And poor Pil Dan watches and tries all his mischievous tricks to see if he cannot keep her here. He should know better, for he has watched the roses bloom and fade for centuries. But it's ever the same story. He wants his very own Summer to last always. And who knows but that it does? For Love knows no season, and even though the roses do fade, Love always stays to bring happiness into an otherwise drear, drab world.

Dicky Is Called Away, Leaving Madge to Face Danger

"YOU'VE solved a great problem for me," I told Lillian as she offered to tell Dicky of the danger which might menace the farmhouse. "Just now I don't want to do any more talking to Dicky than is necessary. He's been in rather—uncertain humor—lately, and if I concentrate on that code I don't want to be upset by anything."

"You shan't be," she promised. "And I'll clip the Dicky bird's wings. Incidentally, I love that mild phrase—'uncertain humor'—in connection with your husband and my oldest friend. He's like a small boy spoiling for a licking lately, and if he gets me riled enough, I'll go out and break off a hickory switch. Ah! there's Katie at the dinner gong! She pounds it as if she were a drummer in a piccaninny band."

But there was to be no opportunity to tell Dickey anything that night. We barely had finished dinner when he and his mother came home from the outing which Lillian so cleverly had engineered. And when he had opened his mail, which had come from the village while he was gone, he made a dive for the stairway, scattering orders as he went.

"Just time to make the train. Must get in town tonight. Tell Jim bring car around. Madge, help me with my things, will you, please?"

He was at the top of the stairs before he finished speaking and Lillian's voice sounded crisply:

"I'll get Jim."

She went swiftly toward the kitchen and I sped upstairs to Dickey's room. The emergency bag which I always keep ready for him was already standing by the door, and on the bed was a big suitcase open at which my tempestuous husband was hurling articles of clothing and shoes.

"There," he said as he threw tennis trousers and plus fours on the top of the pile, "just rustle me some suitable socks, handkerchiefs and ties, and get those things in if you can. I'll pack my drawing things in the portfolio and I can strap the two together while I'm in the car going over. Oh, and get out my racquet and press, will you?"

I have ushered him off on so many journeys that I knew exactly what to do, and by the time we heard the hum of the motor, as Jim brought 'round the car, his bag and portfolio were packed, his golf bag and tennis racquet ready, and he was on the veranda with his traveling paraphernalia around him.

"Are you going to drive me, Madge?" he asked, and I had an acquiescence on my tongue when Lillian effectually interposed.

"Indeed, she's not," she said, "although she'd be fool enough to do it because you asked her. But she's just about dead with a headache and I'm going to put her to bed as soon as you're gone."

"Oh, I'm sorry, Madge," Dicky said, with punctilious contrition, and I knew that he had asked me to drive him only from force of habit.

"It doesn't amount to much," I said, feeling supremely ridiculous, for I had no sign of headache or other physical ill-feeling. Lillian explained as soon as we were alone.

"You anointed little idiot!" she sputtered. "I suppose your idea of taking care of yourself is to drive home alone from the station—it will be dark by then. It's a wonder you didn't plan to take the road by the shack. How long is Dicky going to be gone?"

"About three days he said," I returned. "Depends something on Miller."

"Oh, it's Miller," she said, referring to an author who was one of Dicky's stanchest admirers, and who lived in a delightful country place in the foothills of the Adirondacks. "He must have finished his latest serial. When he writes the last word he sends for the artist. Of course, it's wonderful for Dicky, but I wish he hadn't had to go just at this time. I want to see Jim when he gets back. I think I'll have him get some sturdy friend of his to sleep at the farmhouse nights until Dicky gets back. I may be the worst old fuss-budget in the world without any cause for worry, but I don't mind telling you that I wish we were safely through this particular piece of woods."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Pay Careful Attention to Baby's Skin

IT IS important to take good care of the baby's skin. What may seem to be a trifling neglect may cause the little thing a lot of needless suffering.

DR. COPELAND

The skin is much more important to the welfare of the human being than most of us realize. We appreciate that it serves as a protective covering for the vital structures lying beneath it. But it does far more than to protect these structures from injury.

In the great modern buildings erected today the temperature of the rooms is controlled by clever instruments called "thermostats." You may "set" one of these devices as you set a clock. The indicator may be placed at 75 degrees in one room and 60 degrees in an adjoining room. So perfect is the control that the steam is shut off or turned on, as required to maintain the desired temperature. The importance and convenience of it lie in the fact that the control is automatic.

Ingenious as this mechanical system is, it does not compare with the heat regulation system of the animal body. Among its purposes, the skin was designed by the Great Creator to control the temperature of our bodies.

This important function, heat regulation, is made possible by the extensive network of blood vessels, as well as by the sweat glands of the skin. There are many tiny nerves to operate the blood vessels, causing their opening or closing, supplying more blood, or less blood, as the requirements demand.

The nerves which have this interesting control over the circulation of the blood are called "vasomotor" nerves. There are "vasodilators" and "vaso-constrictors." Some day I shall attempt to describe these to you. But you have been told enough to understand how control of the blood supply of the skin is used to regulate the temperature of the body.

You know how the peoples of tropical lands keep their drinking water in porous jars. The vessel "sweats," as the saying it. The evaporation of this moisture chills the surface and keeps the water cool.

We have sweat glands to provide moisture on hot days. Its evaporation lowers the temperature of the body's surface. That helps to keep us cool.

The sweat glands, in their turn, are controlled by special nerves. These direct gland action as the other nerves I mentioned control blood supply.

The skin cannot function perfectly unless it is clean and carefully groomed. I use the word "carefully" on purpose. The skin of a baby is very, very tender. It is easily irritated and inflamed. Unless all the cleansing processes are carefully done the baby suffers real pain.

The soap must be well chosen. Strong, irritating soaps are out of place in washing a baby. Indeed, they are out of place in washing any tender skin.

Take great pains in keeping the baby's skin in good condition. Then, if the youngster could talk, he would call you blessed.

T. E. Q.—What do you advise for painful neck glands? It is most painful on the sides of the neck, right back of the ears down to collar bone. Is there any danger of having T. B. of the glands?

A.—I do not believe that you have any cause for worry. Try rubbing iodex ointment into the neck at night. If this does not help in a week or two it would be wise to consult a physician.

* * *

M. E. Q.—What will clear up an oily skin?

A.—The diet and elimination are often features. Hot and cold applications used alternately for 15 or 20 minutes daily should help the condition to some extent.

M. G. Q.—What do you advise for ringing in the ears?

A.—This condition is usually due to nasal catarrh which has extended to the middle ear. First of all the catarrhal trouble must be cleared up. See a nose and throat specialist for treatment.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

GETTING THE RISING GENERATION TO RISE

THE trouble with the rising generation appears to be the impossibility of getting it to RISE before lunch-time.

Marriages are no longer "made in Heaven." Most of them are made in an aeroplane, with plenty of parachutes handy in case "anything goes wrong."

* * *

A woman used to have to earn a divorce-decree, like a diploma, by going through the school of experience; but, nowadays, she expects one to be handed to her, like a coupon, with every package of cigarets.

HELEN ROWLAND

Not until she sees her husband's complete absorption in the sail-boat that little Bobby is trying to "make go" in the bathtub, does a woman realize how much mental effort she has been wasting, trying to talk intelligently to him about the coming election.

* * *

No darling, it is not real love, until a man can give his entire attention to the girl and the moon, and forget the taximeter, the road lights and the traffic signals.

* * *

The cigaret has replaced the knitting-needle in grandmother's life these days and her afternoon nap is taken in the face-pack on a pink chaise-longue instead of on the fireside settee.

* * *

Before marriage, a man will ruin his white flannel trousers to gather you a few water lilies; after marriage, he considers it a great concession if he consents to bring them home from the cleaner's and put them ON.

* * *

Courtship is that interval of glamorous uncertainty, in which the girl helps the man to make up his mind to give her the legal right to love him.

Tact of Courtship Makes for Happiness After Marriage, Fay King Says

By FAY KING

WHEN young married people fall into nagging ways, and little disagreements, I wonder if they ever stop to think how differently they acted during their courtship!

No matter how peeved you were about little matters then, you smiled and pretended to be pleased.

You didn't say the first unkind thing that flashed into your mind. You were afraid that if you did, it would end your lovely friendship!

You forgave little careless acts of thoughtlessness. You conceded to each other's taste.

You went to the ball game with him, but you didn't care for ball games. He went to the concert with you, though concerts bored him.

Why not use as much tact now as you did then?

Oyster Cocktail.
Fried Chicken, Southern Style.
Buttered Lima Beans.
Mashed Yellow Turnips.
Head Lettuce with Beet Dressing.
Jellied Prune Pudding.

FRESH oysters are obtainable now and may be served on the half shell on a plate of crushed ice around a small glass holding the cocktail mixture. Serve about five medium oysters to a portion. They may also be served in glasses with the dressing poured over them. For a cocktail mixture to serve six mix together two teaspoons prepared horseradish, three teaspoons tomato catsup, two tablespoons vinegar four tablespoons lemon juice and one-quarter teaspoon tobasco sauce Add one teaspoon salt. Both oysters and dressing should be very cold.

Friend chicken, Southern style, is delicious. Cut two small chickens into eight or twelve pieces, dip each piece quickly in cold water, then sprinkle with salt and pepper, and roll in plenty of flour.

HEAT one-quarter cup cooking oil very hot in a frying pan, and saute the chicken until each piece is brown on both sides. Drain the pieces well and arrange on a warm platter. Set the dish in a hot place to keep the meat from cooling while the gravy is being made.

* * *

Pour out of the pan, all but two tablespoons of the fat, add two tablespoons flour, then cup of milk. Season with salt and pepper and pour the gravy over the chicken. You may add a little chopped parsley to the gravy.

* * *

I'VE suggested buttered lima beans as a substitute for potatoes because of their starch content. If you prefer potatoes go right ahead and have them. Some

TABLET UNVEILED

SPAN ON ROUTE OF BRADDOCK'S ARMY MARCH

A bronze tablet commemorating the crossing of the Monongahela river at McKeesport by Gen. Edward Braddock and his army was dedicated yesterday by the Queen Alliquippa Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. William Lawrence Gordon Gibson and Miss Dorothy Anne Keith, decendants of Col. Harry Gordon, engineer officer of Braddock's army, unveiled the tablet which is placed at the McKeesport end of the new Duquesne-McKeesport bridge.

The tablet was presented by Miss Agnes May Robbins, of the D. A. R. and was accepted by Attorney W. Heber Dithrich for County Commissioner E. V. Babcock.

Others who spoke included the Rev. P. S. Kohler, of McKeesport; Mrs. Edward Trax, regent of Queen Alliquippa chapter; Mayor George H. Lysle of McKeesport; William Gibson, William H. Stevenson, member of Pennsylvania Historical Commission and Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, honorary president general of the D. A. R.

Col. Gordon, the British officer in command of the engineer or pioneer corps of Braddock's army, constructed the roadway through the mountains still known as Braddock's Road, which the Americans under Washington and the British under Braddock followed on their way to the battle field. Descendants invited by the D. A. R. included Mrs. William Gibson and her niece, Miss Keith, of 1509 Shady avenue.

Col. Gordon, who took a gallant part in the battle which resulted so disastrously to Braddock, was one of the survivors.

Mrs. Gibson is his great-great grand daughter and her niece, Miss Keith, and her son, the late William Lawrence Gordon Gibson, a prominent young Pittsburgh lawyer, who died three years ago, are of the same line of descendants.

Col. Gordon's descendants in this community are still further represented by Lawrence Gordon Gibson, the little son of Attorney Gibson who participated in the excercises.

Col. Gordon's wife was Rachel Lawrence, a niece of Thomas Lawrence, who was one of William Penn's council. Chief Justice Tighlman, one of the early justices of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court was related to the Lawrence family.

SEWICKLEY MINISTER SPEAKS AT YOUNGSTOWN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 28.—The Rev. W. E. Schuette, of Sewickley, last night opened an eight weeks' Sunday school institute at tS. Luke's Lutheran Church, of which the Rev. W. J. Kratz is pastor. Other speakers were the Rev. Luther Malberg and Prof. Ralph Heim, of Thiel College. About 500 attended last night's session.

families feel that a meal is not complete unless potatoes appear on the menu.

For the best dressing, mix a chopped boiled beet or two with your regular French dressing, and poor over the head lettuce.

The jellied prune pudding makes a rich and satisfying dessert. Dissolve a tablespoon gelatin in one-half cup cold water. Melt it over hot water and add to two cups of prunes, chopped fine. Add one cup chopped nuts, one teaspoon vanilla, and two cups whipped cream. Pour into molds and chill.

SUGAR COOKIES—One cup sugar, ½ cup butter, one egg, ¼ cup milk, 2¼ cups pastry flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla 1 tablespoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons Blue Ribbon Malt Extract, (plain), ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg.

Cream the sugar and butter. Add well beaten egg and the Blue Ribbon Malt Extract. Mix well. Sift the dry ingredients together, and add to the first mixture. If necessary to handle the dough, add more flour. Roll very thin and cut with a cookie cutter. Bake in quick oven at 450° F. from twelve to fifteen minutes. Makes three dozen cookies.

PEAR DELIGHT—One sponge cake; six or eight halves of canned pears.

Two cups thin custard sauce.

One-third cup cream.

Candied cherries.

Use a round or square sponge cake about two inches thick. Place on a large serving plate and arrange the pears on it in a circle, narrow ends toward the center. Pour the custard over the pears and chill thoroughly. Garnish with whipped cream and finely chopped cherries just before serving.

BOSTON CREAM PIE—One cup flour, 2 eggs, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup boiling milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Beat eggs until very light and then add to them the dry ingredients sifted several times together. Then stir in milk and vanilla. Bake in a deep layer cake pan in a moderate oven.

Cool and split through the layer, putting the following cream filling between the two layers. Powdered sugar should be sprinkled over the completed cake in lieu of icing.

SCOTCH SCONES — Two cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 1-3 cup milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 eggs.

Mix and sift flour, salt, baking powder and 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut in butter with a knife. Add the beaten eggs (reserving 1 egg white for the tops). Add milk and mix to a soft dough. Roll out on a slightly floured board to ½ inch thickness and cut in diamond shaped pieces. Brush with white of egg and sprinkle with the remaining tablespoon sugar. Bake in a quick over (425 F.) 10 to 15 minutes. This makes 10 to 12 scones.

NOODLE PUDDING—One package egg noodle, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup butter or substitute, 3 eggs, ½ lemon (grated), ½ cup raisins, ½ cup walnuts (chopped), 3 apples cut into thin slices, and ½ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and sugar, all eggs, lemon rind, raisins, walnuts, apples and salt. Mix thoroughly with egg noodles. Pour into a well greased dishpan and bake in moderate oven about 1 hour.

TAPIOCA PUDDING—Half cup pearl tapioca or 3 tablespoons minute tapioca, 1 quart milk, 1 teaspoon melted butter, 6 tablespoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla or lemon extract.

Soak tapioca in cold water one hour; drain, add milk and butter, and cook in double boiler until tapioca is transparent. Add sugar and salt to beaten eggs and combine by pouring hot mixture slowly on eggs. Return to double boiler and cook until thick. Add flavoring and serve hot or cold with cream.

PEANUT BREAD—Take 1 egg, ¼ cup sugar, 1 1-3 cups milk, 1 cup finely chopped peanuts, 8 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt and 4 cups flour. Beat together the egg and sugar. Add milk, then the peanuts. Sift the dry ingredients and mix thoroughly with the other ingredients. Pour into well-greased bread pans. Bake 35 to 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

* * *

PEACH WHIP—Mash 1½ cups soft ripe peaches through potato ricer or fruit press. Sweeten to taste with sifted powdered sugar. Turn into wide bowl, add 2 unbeaten egg whites, and beat with a wire whisk until stiff enough to hold its shape. Pile lightly into tall glasses and serve with whipped cream.

* * *

CHEESE DRESSING—Cream ¼ cup Roquefort cheese adding gradually 5 or 6 tablespoons salad oil, 2 or 3 tablespoons vinegar and ½ teaspoon each salt and paprika. Serve with any green salad.

Easy to apply—and great fun too!

The difference lies behind the knowing eye of this man. He is the Sunshine Bakerman.

He is the man who riginated, back in 1908, a delicious cream-filled ch colate biscuit sandwich .. and called it Hydrox. There was no other biscuit like it.

Naturally, its recipe is treated with loving care by the Sunshine Bakerman of today. Baking fine Hydrox has become a toothsome tradition in the Thousand Window Bakeries.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

NAB THREE HIT-RUN DRIVERS

ADMIT 5-DAY OLD KILLING, TURNED OVER TO CORONER

A five-day search for the driver of the auto which ran down and killed William G. Wolfe, 55, of 3002 Laketon road, in Frankstown road, last Sunday morning ended today when Clair Lengafelt, 28, of 7128 Mt. Vernon street; his wife, Margaret, 21, and Lengafelt's brother, Walter, 25, were turned over to the coroner.

After first insisting that their auto, which tallied with the description of the car that struck Wolfe, had been stolen, County Detective Benson McWilliams, who made the arrest, says the trio broke down and confessed.

According to McWilliams, the trio said they fled when Mrs. Lengafelt became hysterical following the accident. Walter Lengafelt prevailed upon them to go back. They did so and saw Wolfe on the road. Fearing that their damaged auto would identify them as the party which struck Wolfe, they drove away and obtained another machine, and when they returned to take him to a hospital, his body had already been removed.

When McWilliams questioned them last night they asserted their car had been stolen and later abandoned. It was found by Walter Lengafelt, they said. Finally Mrs. Lengafelt is said to have confessed and the others corroborated her story.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS HITS CONNELLSVILLE

SUBURBAN GENERAL GRADUATES 11 NURSES

Eleven nurses were given diplomas last night at exercises held by the Suburban General Hospital School of Bellevue in Bellevue High School. This is the largest class yet graduated by the hospital. Dr. Harry C. McKown, of the University of Pittsburgh, made the principal address. William B. Rodgers, hospital director, presented the diplomas, and pins were presented by Rachel F. MacDermid, principal of the nursing school.

A Cooking School Lesson You will be glad to remember!

WHETHER or not you attended the Cooking School last week, write this down in your memory: Knox Sparkling Gelatine is the finest, the purest of gelatine, and the most economical to use! Actually, there is enough gelatine in one package of Knox's to make four different desserts or salads, six generous servings of each. And every Knox dish is a masterpiece in the art of dessert and salad making! Knox Gelatine is plain gelatine, without artificial flavoring, coloring or sugar. You combine it with real fruits or vegetables that have real food flavor—real food value. The demonstrator proved it at the Cooking School—why not prove it to yourself at home? Order a package of Knox Gelatine from your grocer. Here are four recipes—why not try one today? Remember—enough gelatine in one package to make all four!

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

McGraw's Cast-offs Do Much to Keep Giants from Winning Pennant—Nehf Follows Grimes and Harper—Yanks Only Half Game from Flag—Paul Waner Loses Batting Fight with Hornsby.

CAST-OFF players continue to haunt John McGraw. If the Giants are beaten out by the Cardinals for the National League pennant, the loss of the flag will be due chiefly to wallops handed to the Gotham outfit by players whom McGraw discarded as of no further use to the New York club.

ARTHUR NEHF

Burleigh Grimes, for instance, defeated the McGrawites five times this year without losing a game to them.

Last week Outfielder George Harper, traded to the Redbirds on May 10 for Catcher Bob O'Farrell, beat the Giants single-handed in an important game by making three home runs.

Yesterday Pitcher Arthur Nehf, veteran lefthander of the Cubs, whom McGraw sold to Cincinnati on May 11, 1926, when he thought that the southpaw had reached the end of his string, stepped in and gave the New Yorkers a disastrous setback in another contest of vital importance.

THOSE two defeats administered by former Giants at critical stages of the pennant fight have had a tremendous bearing upon the race. Possibly they may cost the McGrawites the National League championship.

If the Giants had won the game in which Harper's homers caused their downfall, they would be in first place today with a lead of a full box score over the Cardinals.

If they had won the contest in which Nehf's fine pitching beat them yesterday they would be tied with the Missourians today for the pennant leadership.

BILL M'KECHNIE'S men came back in fine style yesterday after Wednesday's defeat in Brooklyn, and instead of showing a shaken morale, such as many a team would have displayed in a similar pinch, they took heart at the news of the Giants' defeat in the first half of the double-header with the Cubs and proceeded to stretch their lead to a full game again by trimming the Braves.

The chances again favor the Cards, in consequence. If they win their remaining two games in Boston, the Giants will be required to beat the Bruins today and tomorrow and then win again over the Redbirds on Sunday in order to make the race finish in a tie.

IT WILL work out for the best interests of baseball if the National League race is decided before Sunday's game between the Giants and Cardinals. This can be brought about only if St. Louis wins both remaining games in Boston and New York loses one of its two games with Chicago, or if the Cards win one out of two in the Hub and New York loses two to the Cubs. That would put the Cards two games ahead and the McGrawites could not tie them even by winning Sunday's game. Both the Giants and Cardinals have many supporters and well-wishers among Pittsburgh fans, but from an unbiased viewpoint it must be admitted that baseball will look better if the pennant argument is settled before Sunday.

BRANCH RICKEY

OF COURSE, there can be no doubt of the honesty of the close fight no matter how or when it is decided. Just picture any modern ball player charitably running any risk of losing $5,000 to $6,000 each for the purpose of keeping the finish in doubt to the end and thus helping the gates, in which they do not share.

But in event of the outcome of the race remaining in doubt until Sunday some suspicious minds that cannot conceive anything is on the square never would be convinced that the fight had not been deliberately kept close until the final game in order to attract a capacity crowd to the Polo Grounds and possibly two or three more huge gatherings afterward at a play-off series in event of a tie.

THE Giants' protest of the game in which they were defeated yesterday on the claim that Catcher Hartnett of the Cubs interfered with Andy Reese in a play between third and home and that the umpire erred in not calling the runner safe, probably will be disallowed by League President Heydler.

Protests are supposed to be made, and are upheld by the league head, only when it can be shown that an umpire has misinterpreted a playing rule. Decisions like the disputed one of yesterday involve only a question of judgment, the umpire deciding that Hartnett was not guilty of interference, and in all questions of judgment the umpire's decision is final.

REGULATIONS announced by Branch Rickey, vice president and business manager of the Cardinals, to govern the sale of world series tickets for the St. Louis games in the event the Redbirds win the National League pennant, are not likely to add to the popularity of the Mound City club. As usual, each order must be for tickets for three games, and in addition to the price of the cardboards the purchaser must send 25 cents to cover the cost of postage and registered mail. Whether or not it costs as much as 25 cents for return mail on each order, this is the first time that the fans have been made to pay postage on world series tickets. The seat prices surely are high enough without any additional tax being imposed upon patrons.

PAUL WANER

THE Yankees drove another nail into the American League pennant by winning two games yesterday while the Athletics were bagging a single contest.

The A's mathematical chance for the pennant has dwindled to a mere half game. The only way they could win out now would be for them to win all of their remaining three games and the Yankees to lose all of the three that they have yet to play. In that case the Mackmen could win out by half a game.

One more victory for New York, or one defeat for Philadelphia, will cinch the flag for the Yanks.

LOUIS KOUPAL, former Pirate pitcher with the Robins, hung up his first big league victory when he beat the Bucs in the second half of the double disaster in Brooklyn yesterday. It was the first and only game he started for the Dodgers this year. Previously he had been used 16 times, always in relief roles. He pitched in six games for the Corsairs in 1926 and was charged with two defeats.

Incidentally, by holding Paul Waner hitless in five times at bat, Koupal killed the Pirate slugger's last chance to overtake Rogers Hornsby in the National League batting championship race. As Jess Petty kept Paul from hitting safely in three times at bat in the first game, the elder Waner failed to connect in eight trips to the plate during the afternoon. He has made only one hit in his last six games and his average has fallen to .370, giving Hornsby a seemingly safe lead of 20 points.

ON June 2, 1923, a Frenchman, Eugene Criqui, wrested the world featherweight fistic championship from Johnny Kilbane by knocking him out in the sixth round. Less than eight weeks later, or on July 26, Criqui lost the title to Johnny Dundee on a decision in 15 rounds. Tonight, another Frenchman will endeavor to capture the same crown, Andre Routis being scheduled to meet the title-holder, Tony Canzoneri, in a 15-round argument in New York.

TONY CANZONERI

ROUTIS and Canzoneri have clashed before, Tony winning a 12-round decision over the Frenchman almost two years ago. The Frenchman also lost to Joe Glick (twice), Joe Salas, Charley Ledoux, Kid Francis, Kid Berg, Johnny Brown and others, and he holds victories over Tommy Crowley, Carl Tremaine, Al Brown, Petey Ward, Joe Malone and others.

Joe Jacobs, Andre's manager, figures that the Frenchman will have a better chance to beat Conzoneri in 15 rounds than he had before in 12 frames, but the bulk of the dope makes Canzoneri look like the probable winner.

HOLLERAN'S GRID TEAM WELL FORTIFIED

(This is the fourteenth of a series of articles written by Jess Carver, dealing with the football prospects of tri-state colleges. Allegheny will be reviewed in Sunday's Sun-Telegraph, with pictures of the Methodists accompanying the article.)

By JESS M. CARVER,
Staff Correspondent.

GREENVILLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—With their hands on the doorknob of their thirtieth season on the collegiate gridiron, the Lutheran grid warriors of Thiel College find themselves as well armored and buckled as they have been for the past 10 years, and possibly in their entire history.

Thiel will invade Pittsburgh tomorrow to battle the mighty Panthers in the opening game of the season. Maybe they will be well trampled on, maybe they won't. But if they are, it will only be their record that will suffer injury, not their spirit.

But spirit isn't the only thing that the Lutherans have this fall. Tommy Holleran has invested his footballers with plenty of pep, the sort of pep he had when he used to bark the signals at Pitt. Tommy has also invested them with football strength. He hasn't a lot of men, about three teams comprises his list, but he has a good starting eleven and fine reserve strength. And reserve power has been something sadly lacking in this town in years past.

TEAM IS LIGHT

The Lutherans will be a light eleven, averaging no better than about 170 pounds. It will be a fast team, and will have in its backfield for the last year, as fine a halfback as can be found in this territory

LUTHERANS COACHED BY TOMMY HOLLERAN HERE TOMORROW

Thiel College of Greenville, Pa., will send a determined little crew of gridiron warriors to Pittsburgh to battle Pitt in the opening game of the season in the Stadium. They are coached by Dr. Tommy Holleran, former Pitt quarterback star, and captained by Stanley Berkman, one of the best halfbacks in the tri-state district. The players pictured above are, left to right: Back row—Bliston, Laube, Schilling, Low, Patuselle, Frampton, Myers, Dixon, Thompson, Samons. Second row—Garthwaite, Maher, Linquist, Harris, Dimpero, Knopp, McClure, Bruce, Sterner. Front row—Nyfors, Leonard, Franks, Roberts, Berkman (captain), Mitchel, Morris, Werdle, Hall.

Bartell to Wed On His Return To Coast

A Pittsburgh contract for 1929 is not the only one that Dick Bartell, utility infielder of the Pirates, will sign this fall. Bartell, who arrived in Pittsburgh this morning with several other Buccaneers sent home in advance of the club by Manager Donie Bush, will leave tonight for his home in Alameda, Cal., where he will be married at an early date. Dick probably will sign a Pirate pact for next season before he departs.

12 RULES FOR SUCCESS

by GENE TUNNEY
RETIRED HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

NO. VI—WHEN OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS.

A SECRETARY to George Washington once approached the great man and said: "General, I am sorry to be late, my watch is not keeping good time."

"Well," said the general, "you will have to get a new watch or I'll have to get a new secretary."

Bishop Hall said the use of time is fate.

Martineau said time should be counted by heart throbs.

Shakespere said, "I have wasted time and now time is wasting me."

Many a man whines while he says "I have never had an opportunity." It is a pitable sight to see a man sit around and wait for opportunity to come to his door. It is false conception of life to say that it owes us a living. That is about all some think of making a living rather than making a life.

RHODES' ADVENTURE.

Opportunity is the desire and ability to enter any door and go inside to see what is needed to be done. Cecil Rhodes went to South Africa, leaving behind him the pleasure and social attachment of England, but he saw an opportunity in South Africa for diamonds and became one of the richest men in the world. Goodyear saw an opportunity in Brazil to bring to the world a knowledge and use of rubber. He suffered privation, sickness and hunger—yet he made the world his debtor. Vanderbilt saw his opportunity in steamboat navigation and seized it. Rockefeller saw his opening in oil and followed it. Men do not lack opportunities; they miss them.

When Henry Ford built his first insignificant factory he was unable to pay his contractor a sum of $800. Mr. Ford, with a generous and farvisioned skill, said to the contractor, "I will give you 800 shares in my company." The man had talked of

ALLEGHENY HI DEFEATED

A poor punt from behind the 10-yard line in the third quarter caused the defeat of Allegheny High School in its first game of the football season yesterday afternoon on the Oliver High School field. Riske, South Hills quarterback, recovered the ball and ran 15 yards for a touchdown, and the game ended with the count 7-0. The lineup:

South Hills—7.		Allegheny—0.
Parke	L. E.	Horton
Waddill	L. T.	Leisacker
Wheteel	L. G.	Sowell
Brown	C.	Sedlak
Lambert	R. G.	Furman
Dazzie	R. T.	Blatecky
Currie	R. E.	Mundy
Riske	Q. B.	Restivo
Davis	L. H.	Neo
Pietsch	R. H.	Weimer
Critchlow	F. B.	Bernhart

Score by periods—
South Hills ..... 0 0 7 0—7

Touchdowns—Riske. Point after touchdown—Pietsch (on scrimmage play). Substitutions—Allegheny, Thornton for Sedlak; Sedlak for Restivo; South Hills, Haney for Whetzel. Referee—Walsh. Umpire—Dennis. Head linesman—McMasters. Time of quarters—15 minutes.

TULSA FAVORED TO WIN

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 8.—(AP.)—Tulsa became the favorite to win the play-off of the Western League by defeating Oklahoma City in the second straight game here yesterday, 11 to 6. A five-run rally in the fifth inning gave the oilers a lead which they never relinquished.

FIGHT RESULTS

At New Castle—Midget Wolgast defeated Midget Lew Goldberg, 10 rounds; Eddie Weygant defeated Frankie Porto, 8 rounds; Bud Bollender knocked out (technically) Billy Papke, 2 rounds; Tony Martin knocked out (technically) Frankie McCann, 3 rounds.

At Johnstown—Bud Gorman and Ike McFowler drew, 10 rounds; Marty Sirko and Bad News Taylor drew, 6 rounds; Joe Eliene defeated Andy Novak, 6 rounds; Jimmy Belmont knocked out (technically) Jack Unglo, 2 rounds.

At Chicago—Jerry (Tuffy) Griffiths, knocked out Mike McTigue, 1 round; Marty Gallagher defeated Bud Doran, 6 rounds; Eddie Ballantin and Mickey O'Neil drew, 6 rounds; Norman Brown defeated Tut Seymour, 6 rounds; Kid Koke knocked out Larry Feliz, 1 round.

At Kansas City, Mo.—Young Dillon defeated Tiger Johnny Kline, 10 rounds.

WALTONS STAGE BIG TOURNEY

The third annual fall tournament of the Izaak Walton League of Allegheny County, to be held at Saunder's range, on the William Penn highway, tomorrow, will be featured by the appearance of a number of experts from other cities in the various events.

Bait and fly-casting and revolver, trap and rifle shooting are included in the big program, which the public is invited to witness.

J. H. Parry is chairman of committee in charge.

Meet Here Next Year

By JESS CARVER.

COMPLETING negotiations started three years ago by K. E. Davis, former graduate manager of athletics, Pitt has cemented arrangements for home-and-home football games with Ohio State University, bringing the Buckeyes here for a game November 2, next year, and providing for the appearance of the Panthers at Columbus either in 1930 or 1931.

A formal contract was drawn up a week ago by the present directors of the two schools, W. D. Harrison, of Pitt, and L. W. St. Johns, of Ohio State. Yesterday a telegram was received by the local authorities from St. Johns advising that the athletic board of control at Columbus had sanctioned the agreement, and that the series was "on."

Athletic relations between the two institutions were given a fine send-off in 1926 when the Pitt basketball team, under Dr. H. C. Carlson, invaded Columbus. The Panthers, playing their first game of that season, were defeated, but, last winter, the Staters came here for a return game and were annihilated by Carlson's great Golden Panther quintet that eventually romped through a 21-game schedule without defeat.

While next year's game hardly will fill the stadium, it is believed that the Ohioans will draw a crowd that will compare with that attracted by any of the other out-of-town-district elevens that have appeared here since the bowl was opened.

Western Conference alumni, especially those from Ohio State, have been anxious to see a Big Ten school in action locally and will have their first opportunity when State comes here next November.

MORLEY DRURY HERE

Morley Drury, all-American quarterback last year from Southern California who shared the backfield limelight of the season with Gibby Welch, of Pitt and Bruce Caldwell, of Yale, was an interested spectator as the Pitt team went through its workout in the Stadium yesterday.

Drury stopped off here on his way to Toledo, O., where he is to enter business, to see his brother Herb, the local hockey star. Drury compared the present Pitt team and its outlook for the season with the state of affairs as existed on the Coast with regards to U. S. C. a year ago.

"We were expected to get nowhere and landed right at the top," Drury said. "We had a lot of unknowns on our team, a hard schedule and were doped in advance certain to lose three ball games. Pitt looks to be in the same fix, and maybe they'll come through as we did."

CARNEGIE TECH

Flaming jerseys of red will adorn the varsity football eleven of Carnegie Tech as it steps on the field of battle tomorrow afternoon, to meet Westminster College at Youngstown in the opening game of the season. The game will get under way at 2:30 o'clock, Eastern Standard time. The crimson jerseys were distributed to the squad yesterday.

Today, the 21 athletes who will make the trip to Youngstown will workout in their new garb.

Coach Steffen announced that an end and halfback position were still questionable. Tony Sweet, the McKees Rocks flash, and Ted Rosenzweig, former Bellefonte star, have fought it out to the point where Coaches Steffen and Waddell will have to withhold their selection until game time. The fact that Sweet has held down the end position for two years holds no terror for Rosenzweig. His grit and determination has earned recognition.

A large delegation is expected to make the journey to Youngstown. The Tartan squad will depart for Youngstown at 9:15 Eastern Standard time over the Pennsylvania.

DUQUESNE

When football reopens on the Bluff tomorrow after a year's absence, a fast, fairly heavy Duke eleven will be keyed up to the highest to beat the teachers from Slippery Rock. A 6-0 defeat of the Ashland team last year, when the Bluffmen were supposedly going good, won 13-12 hangs over the Dukes' heads. But they are not the least bit scared, and they have been practicing a defense that will make it hard for the Teachers to work the forward pass that brought them their victory over Ashland.

SEEDED STARS CLASH

Four seeded stars will battle today in an effort to reach the finals of the Harvard Cup matches. The matches are scheduled on the Arnold School courts and bring together Billy O'Loughlin and Walter Artsberger and Wally Arensberg and Joe Tatala.

Scholastic Teams Battle Today

BEATING the college boys by a day, City League and W. P. I. A. L. scholastic football teams will pry off the 1928 lid this afternoon with contests scheduled for most local and surrounding territory gridirons. The championship races in both sections of the City League and in the W. P. I. A. L. loom as fairly open ones.

In Section I of the City loop, Westinghouse and South will clash on the latter's gridiron today, with Schenley meeting Fifth Avenue, Peabody, the remaining Section I eleven to get into action today, faces Jeannette, a powerful W. P. I. A. L. contender, in a non-league game.

With the Allegheny-South Hills Section II battle, which South Hills won, 7-0, played yesterday, only one game is on the card today in that section, Carrick and Oliver being scheduled for a fracas on the latter's grid.

Westinghouse is favored to take the South eleven into camp and Schenley has been picked by most close students of local high school football to take the measure of Fifth with comparative ease.

Greensburg, defending W. P. I. A. L. champion, boasts another strong eleven, but will need all its strength to stave off the challenges, certain to be persistent, of teams of the caliber of New Castle, Charleroi, Beaver Falls, Clairton, Turtle Creek and Wilkinsburg.

A score of games are on the books for today, with as many others listed for tomorrow.

in the versatile Stanley Berkman. Berky is about the only real triple threat man in the tri-state district, and he is the envy of every other coach hereabouts.

Kurtz, a veteran, and Garthwaite, a freshman who has come along in fine fashion are going to get the starting jobs at end. The latter is a hefty wingman, tipping the beam at better than 175 pounds. Frampton, Dixon, Paulselle and Bell, the latter a veteran, are other ends who will see service and who may be depended upon for wing strength.

Bliston and Dimpero, veteran tackles and letter men have been replaced for the time being by a pair of snappy looking newcomers. Franks and Costin. Costin goes 180 and Franks 175. That leaves Holleran with his two veterans for reserve punch. Thompson, Low, and Maher, the last named a 210-pound chap, are the remaining tackles on the list.

Leonard and Latimore, both veterans, will handle the guard jobs. Reimold, a promising freshman and Knopp, another new man, are the guard reserves.

LINQUIST AT CENTER

Red Linquist, who lacks a couple pounds of tipping the scales at 170 is the best looking center on the squad. He seems to have all the attributes of a good pivot man, although he needs experience. Bruce, a 186-pounder, and Holl are understudies. Both are good.

The backfield of course is built around Berkman. Berky does the passing, the punting, carries the ball, both around the ends and through the line and is the kingpin of the defense. Berkman has doped out more enemy plays than there are politicians on Pittsburgh's Hill. He weighs about 160 pounds, no more.

Myers, a hard-hitting lad will be a fullback to start, though when Ted Sterner's charley horse passes along, it will take all that Myers has to keep this fellow out of the position. Mitchell, the speedster, will pair off with Capt. Berkman as a halfback. Suscavech is slated for the quarterback role, though Berkman will direct the play of the team.

Sterner, Wardle, Roberts, Morris and the veteran Schillings are the remaining backs certain of seeing service. Schillings and Sterner loom as the first string replacements.

As in 1927, the Lutherans will play three games in Pittsburgh, facing Pitt, Tech and the Dukes in the Smoky City. The season opens there tomorrow with the Pitt contest.

Next Saturday, Juniata will appear on the home lot to pry off the local lid. The following week, the Lutherans will invade Pittsburgh for the second time to play Carnegie Tech.

October 20, will find Geneva at Greenville for an important Conference battle and the following week finds the Holleranites in action at New Wilmington against Westminster in another league fray.

Allegheny will be met on November 3, at home. St. Canisius will be hosts to the team at Buffalo the next week and on November 17, the eleven returns to Pittsburgh to battle the Dukes.

The Saturday before Thanksgiving is permanently open and the season will be closed Turkey Day with the annual classic with Grove City scheduled for the Crimson's home field. This game has been a fixture since 1892.

opportunities all his life, but when it came he closed his eyes and said, "you must find the cash,"—and Mr. Ford did so. The contractor missed an opportunity of becoming a multi-millionaire without turning his hand.

Watt sat before a sputtering teapot and saw steam issuing from the spout. Thousands of others had seen the same thing, but permitted it to pass. Watt grasped opportunity and became a world benefactor in giving the world steam as a mode of furnishing power.

Galvani saw the twitching of frogs' legs and brought to the world Galvanic electricity. The legs of frogs had been twitching since the morning of creation, but Galvani was the first man to find a meaning and put it into use.

But why multiply illustrations? Opportunity is the entering of an open door and not being content to sit on the door step. Seizing opportunities reveal the kind of stuff we are made of.

The difference between a thing and a man is this: a thing stays where you put it, the real man goes out to see what he can find. In 1849, a man by the name of Marshall was out hunting in California. He slipped and fell into a gulch. Bruised and bleeding another would have cursed his luck, but Marshall said: "Now I am here I am going to find what kind of a place this is."

He discovered gold and started the famous gold rush of 1849 to the Far West.

Many a boxer has been satisfied to play the town bully, training and developing skill and science he despised so he stayed just where he was put. Another young man, quick on his feet, clear in his head, sound in his body, sure in his judgment, saw his opportunity, followed the gleam, went out through an open door into fame and success.

Always remember that the use of time is fate, and that no man can be ahead of time who is always behind time.

BUD GORMAN DRAWS WITH IKE M'FOWLER

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Bud Gorman, Chicago heavyweight, and Ike McFowler, Johnstown negro battler, fought a 10-round draw here last night.

Marty Sirko, Pittsburgh, and Bad News Taylor, McKeesport, staged a six-round draw and Joe Elrene, Conneaut Lake, won a decision from Andy Novak, Pittsburgh, in the same number of sets.

Jimmy Belmont, Braddock, and Joe Unglo, McKeesport, both fell out of the ring in the second round of their six-round bout and Unglo was unable to re-enter the ring because of injuries. Belmont was awarded a knockout by the referee.

TOTH STOPS BURRY

John Toth, of the Willow Club, knocked out Dave Burry, of McKeesport, in the third round of the feature bout of an amateur boxing show under the auspices of the Etna Ex-Service Club last night. George Bretch knocked out Cowboy DeLuca in the second round and Billy Winsor won by a technical knockout over Mannie Letsch in the first round. Louis Santucci and Frank Lanz fought a four-round draw.

Style Authority

THE Wing Tip London Brogue is in every English gentleman's shoe kit, and it's a style that has been copied this Fall by every high price manufacturer in America. But when you say it's a Brogue by Bartley of London, you've said all that any man can say about a Brogue.

Bartley & Sons have been making shoes for more than 100 years in the same spot (493 Oxford Street, London, W.). They hold Royal Warrants of Appointment to His Majesty the King and to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

We paid Five Pounds Sixteen Shillings ($27.50) for this original English Wing Tip Brogue—and we bought 40 pairs so that we could show one of Bartley's originals with the Regal Reproduction side by side in every Regal store in U.S.A.

The lasts are identical in both measurements and appearance, and the design is exactly the same. The Upper Leather in Bartley's Brogue is an Imported Calfskin tanned in Oisterwyk, Holland, and in the Regal Reproduction we are using the same identical tannage. Bartley's Brogue is made and sewn by hand. Our shoes are sewn by the same machine as practically all high priced American shoes.

Every hole in the perforations and decorations of the original Bartley Brogue was punched by hand with an awl. We made a die for this design, and with one click of a machine, reproduced the pattern exactly.

And it's the perforations, decorations, punching and notching that put a real kick in a Brogue. A perfectly plain Wing Tip hasn't any more flavor than throwing a kiss to your girl in the dark. But the Bartley Brogue has all the "authority" of a pre-war cocktail and comes from a country where style is still undiluted.

AROUND the RING

by HARRY KECK
SPORTS EDITOR

GARFIELD JOHNSON, local Negro flash, arrived in town last night from New York, via Buffalo, having stopped off in the Bison City to negotiate for a battle with Art Weigand. He is fit for his 10-round windup with Chuck Wiggins, the Indianapolis veteran, which will feature the opening show of the season at Motor Square Garden Monday night. Wiggins will not arrive until Sunday.

The card has been completed for Monday night's show and promises plenty of action with its two six-round and two four-round preliminaries. Tony LaRose of Cincinnati boxes Bobby Richardson of Johnstown in the semi-final, and Leo Kyburski and Joe Louder mix again in the other feature preliminary. Georgie Peck of the North Side and Tom Harris of Lawrenceville face each other in the second four-rounder, and Tony Azzaro, the fighting taxicab driver of the East End, and Frankie Lanz of Sharpsburg, making his professional debut, open the bill.

Four boxing and two wrestling bouts will feature an amateur show under the auspices of Homewood Post No. 251 of the American Legion in the Westinghouse High School auditorium this evening. Singing and music also are on the program. The boxing card follows: 135-pound class, John Leonard, unattached, vs. C. Montalbano, Carnegie Library Club of Braddock; 126-pound class, L. Santucci, North Side A. C., vs. B. Powers, Braddock Library; 118-pound class, Freddie Smith, unattached, vs. Charles Boyle, Braddock Library, and 147-pound class, William Ortlieb, unattached, vs. Russell Verge, Willow Club.

Jack Zivic may have to undergo an operation for the removal of his tonsils before he boxes again. Incidentally, he is going into the insurance selling game with a friend, Joseph F. Chiurazzi, and may spring out on the unsuspecting public almost any day now, flashing a fistful of policies.

Freddie Boylstein, the junior-welterweight of New Kensington, is ready for bouts with anybody his weight around here. Cuddy DeMarco, Jack Zivic, Tony Ross and Terry Lingo preferred. Promoters may reach him by calling New Kensington 9875.

Lope Tenerio, the Filipino, boxes Basil Galiano in the 10-round semi-final to the Tony Canzoneri-Andre Routis 15-round featherweight championship bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight.

Phil Goldstein, local junior-welterweight, is on a pleasure trip to Montreal and Detroit with several New York boxers.

Mike Meran boxes Jack McFarland at Fairmont, W. Va., tonight.

Bobby North, boxer, is requested to call John Malone at Franklin 9551 between 6 and 7 p. m. today.

Byron Foutz of Midland, has Andy Tomosky and Frankie Porto in shape for battles. He may be reached by calling Midland 490.

STETSON, VAN WIE TRAIL IN DUELS

BULLETIN.

CASCADE COUNTRY CLUB, HOT SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 28.—(AP.)—Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., and Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, will play for the women's golf championship of the United States here tomorrow.

Miss Van Wie defeated Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, three times champion, 2 up, in the semi-finals. Miss Collett, who twice has been champion, defeated Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, of Philadelphia, 4 and 3.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 28—(AP.)—All four of the semi-finalists in the women's golf championship were out for practice long before the two matches to determine the finalists got under way today.

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia, had a session on the putting green, while Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, was working with her long irons. Mrs. G. H. Stetson, Philadelphia, practiced driving and Miss Glenna Collett, Providence, pitched ball after ball high in the air toward an imaginary green.

Mrs. Hurd and Miss Van Wie were first off, followed by Miss Collett and Mrs. Stetson.

Miss Collett took the first hole with a 4, a birdie for women. Mrs. Stetson had a 5 after taking 3 to get on. Miss Collett's drive was 250 yards. Miss Collett won the 409-yard second with a 4 to Mrs. Stetson's 5.

Finding a trap with her drive on the first hole, Mrs. Hurd came out well, but required three to reach the green. Miss Van Wie, on the edge of the green in two, pitched dead for a birdie four. Mrs. Hurd then droppped a 25-foot putt for a half.

MATCH IS CLOSE

Neither cleared the rough with drives at the second, but both were on the green in three, and the hole was halved in par five.

Both reached the 310-yard third green in two, with Miss Van Wie away. The Chicago girl obtained a half by sinking an eight-foot putt after overrunning the cup with her approach.

Mrs. Hurd was on the fourth from the tee. Miss Van Wie, in the rough to the right, pitched past the pin, but Mrs. Hurd took three putts and the hole was halved in fours.

Almost a hundred yards behind Mrs. Hurd on her second shot at the 530-yard fifth, Miss Van Wie sent a long brassie to the edge of the green from the rough. Mrs. Hurd came on, 20 feet from the pin, to get down in two putts for a win. Mrs. Hurd one up.

Miss Van Wie put her second in a trap at the sixth, while Mrs. Hurd was over the green. The Philadelphia woman pitched dead for a four, while Miss Van Wie missed her putt and went two down.

GLENNA ADDS TO LEAD

Glenna was on the 530-yard fifth in three, while Mrs. Stetson was short and in rough. Miss Collett had a great drive and a long brassie. Miss Collett almost holed her four and won the hole with a 5 to go four up.

Miss Collett drove 220-yards on the sixth, a 289-yard hole and pitched on. Mrs. Stetson was on with a brassie. Glenna was down in two putts to win with par four when Mrs. Stetson took three putts.

Contray to expectations, Mrs. Hurd was frequently leading Miss Van Wie from the tees, hitting her shots with great power. Mrs. Hurd went three up at the seventh, with a par five when Miss Van Wie took four to get on.

Off the edge on the short eighth, Miss Van Wie pitched on and dropped an eight footer to win her first hole of the day. Mrs. Hurd in a trap pitched past the pin and required four. Mrs. Hurd two up.

Playing sensational golf, Glenna Collett was 7 up on Mrs. Stetson at the end of nine holes. Miss Collett won in 36, one over par for men, and did not lose a hole.

After reaching the ninth green in 2, both Mrs. Hurd and Miss Van Wie missed short putts to halve the hole in 5. This left Mrs. Hurd leading 2 up at the turn.

With an unplayable lie at the tenth, Miss Van Wie played a second ball from the tee, her third stroke under the rules. She was far to the left of the green on her fourth, while Mrs. Hurd placed her brassie second on the green. Miss Van Wie failed to get on with her fifth shot and picked up. Mrs. Hurd 3 up.

Champion Leads Lally

By TOM BIRKS.

CARL KAUFFMANN, defending champion, finished 2 up on J. F. Lally in the morning 18-hole round of the 36-hole final for the city championship at Schenley today in probably the best played match of the tourney.

Kauffmann had to flash practically every shot in his bag to hold off the brilliant effort of Lally, especially in the last nine holes. A large gallery followed the match, and at the conclusion of the afternoon round J. Frederic Byers will present the new Byers trophy to the winner. Kauffmann won the original trophy.

Both players appeared to be on their game, and halved the first and second holes. Kauffmann became 1 up at number three when Lally missed a short putt. Lally evened the match on the long fourth when he played a beautiful second to the pin and Kauffmann was over. The defending champ found himself one down at the short mashie fifth, taking a 5 on the par 3 hole. But Carl found his irons on the sixth and won the hole with a par 2, Lally missing his putt and taking a 4.

The seventh was halved and Kauffmann squared the match with a brilliant 3 on the over-the-trees long eighth hole. Keeping his advantage, the champion became 2 up at the ninth, when Lally's bid for his 4 overran the pin. The medal score was Kauffmann 36 and Lally 39 going out.

BARONS WIN AGAIN

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 28.—(AP.)—Returning from America, Gerald Patterson, Australian tennis star, announced his retirement from Davis Cup play. Patterson said that business would prevent his making the long trips required by Davis Cup competition in the future.

POSTPONED SERIES GAME SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 28.—(AP.)—The second game of the little World Series between Rochester and Indianapolis was postponed yesterday because of rain and cold weather.

The game will be played today, which was open, and the closing games here will be played Saturday and Sunday as scheduled.

Soon after Warren C. Giles, president of the Rochester Club, announced the postponement the rain ceased and the sun broke through the clouds but because of the cold and dampness the postponement was allowed to stand.

Forbes

Why American Prosperity Is Not Now Easily Shaken.

—By B. C. FORBES—

HOWEVER it may be in the rest of the county, there are in New York two main subjects of daily conversation. No, the presidential campaign is not one of them. They are: the stock market and baseball.

The financial and business world thus far has totally ignored the election as a possible source of disturbance.

Have America and Americans changed?

A COMMON comment is that there is no longer one stock market on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, but many stock markets.

The market for railway issues often moves entirely independently of other groups. Motor stocks form a market of their own; so do the Oils; so do the Utilities.

Rarely is there now uniformity of movement in all divisions. Rather is it customary for advances and declines to occur in the same day in different classes of securities.

In the old days the whole market moved either up or down. It was then easy enough to answer the question, "What's the stock market doing?" That question can now be seldom answered in one sentence; it is necessary to particularize.

WHEN cotton was selling at ruinously low prices and the sugar industry was demoralized, I visited New Orleans and got this observation from a leading banker:

"Business here is astonishingly good. You would expect New Orleans to be in the grip of depression, seeing how badly off the cotton and sugar industries are. But, somehow, we seem to have grown too big and too diversified in our interests to be prostrated by any one industry or even by two such vital industries as cotton and sugar.

"Before the war it would have been impossible for us to be moving along as smoothly and satisfactorily as we are now moving had similar conditions ruled in these two major industries."

TAKE California, Oil prices may become demoralized and fruit growers suffer from unreasonably low prices, yet business contrives to move along reasonably well.

California, like the stock market, has become very much broader and diversified in its interests. Hard times in one line no longer drag down all other lines.

Even the prolonged coal strike had only limited effects upon industry and business—although, of course, it brought hardships aplenty to the unfortunate strikers.

New England and textiles have been synonymous. Yet, although the textile trade has been in the doldrums for several years, New England has been able to report substantial prosperity in many directions.

The stoppage of the manufacture of the old Ford car was everywhere looked upon as a calamitous blow to Detroit; yet that wonder-city pulled through creditably—and employment is now booming there as never before.

EVERYBODY is familiar with the old axiom, "Unless the farmer prospers, the country cannot possibly prosper."

Well, what has been happening? Assuredly our agricultural population experienced several years of hard times. But did that play havoc with industrial and business conditions throughout the nation? It did not.

Judging by what has been happening in the stock market, the foundations were then being laid for a boom.

WHAT is the explanation? Is it not that the country, like the stock market, has greatly developed and broadened, becoming more diversified in its interests? Does not part of the explanation lie in the tremendous increase in our wealth, an increase participated in by the South, the North, the West, the East?

Is it that this increased wealth enables certain industries to progress, although others may be standing still or suffering a relapse? For example, while cotton goods and shoes have been in poor demand, never before has there been witnessed such extensive buying of automobiles or such a volume of construction.

TIME was when 8 and 9 per cent call money and 7½ per cent time money, would have promptly wrecked a booming stock market and spelled the doom of business prosperity. But the advent of these rates has on this occasion—so far, at least—caused not even a ripple.

IN view of all the foregoing, is it too much to hope that the country will go through a presidential campaign and election without a tremor?

BREAK WIPES OUT STOCK ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(A. P.)—The stock market displayed another complete reversal of price movement today, rallying at the outset and then breaking sharply on a renewal of selling pressure against the popular industrials and specialties. Early gains of 1 to 5 points were largely wiped out and in many cases replaced by losses of 1 to 7 points.

The initial upswing was influenced by the unexpectedly small increase in brokers' loans, the sharp drop in federal reserve rediscounts and the fixing of the renewal rate on call money at 6 per cent, the lowest in a month. Subsequent calling of $30,000,000 in bank loans, presumably in preparation for heavy week-end and month-end requirements, sent the call money rate to 6½ per cent and then to 7. Time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

Raising of the call money rate inspired a renewal of "bear" attacks, which brought out heavy liquidation by frightened investors. Wright Aeronautical dropped from an early high of 168½ to 156½, off 7 points net, and General Motors fell from an early high of 212 to 208, or more than 10 points below the year's high established a week ago. Radio, Curtiss Aeroplane, International Harvester, Union Carbide, Purity Baking and McCrory Stores B sold 3 to 4 points below yesterday's final quotations. Early gains in U. S. Steel common, American Can and many other popular industrials were converted into declines.

In the absence of any adverse developments, other than the stiffening in call money, which was generally expected in banking circles, the reaction was generally described as a normal correction of a top-heavy speculative position. For the last few days several of the largest commission houses have been advising profit-taking and extreme caution in the making of new commitments.

Unusually heavy quarterly disbursements next week are expected by bankers to place a temporary strain on the credit situation, with the result that an 8 or 9 per cent call money rate is again likely.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS

THE COLONIAL TRUST COMPANY

Pittsburgh, Pa., September 20, 1928

The Board of Directors of this company has today declared the regular quarterly dividend of $3.00 per share on the capital stock of the company, payable October 1, 1928, to stockholders of record at the close of business September 27, 1928. Checks will be mailed.

GEORGE A. YOUNG, Treasurer.

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS MEETING

Annual meeting of stockholders of Hamilton State Bank will be held Friday, Oct. 19, 1928, at 2 p. m. at the banking rooms, Homewood ave. at Bennett st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

N. A. MORRISON, Secretary.

ADVANCE REFLECTS BULGE IN HALF YEAR'S EARNINGS

A sharp upturn in Central Ohio Steel Products common marked the early dealings on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today. The stock was in urgent demand during the forenoon and scored a substantial gain over yesterday's close.

Buying of Central Ohio was due principally to the glow report of the company covering the six months ended June 30. This statement showed a balance for surplus equal to $2.10 a share on the common after payment of bond interest, and preferred and common dividends. The reports also disclosed reductions in outstanding bonds and preferred stock through open market purchase by the company. Central Ohio is at present on an annual dividend basis of $1.50 a share, but traders were discussing the probability of the issue being placed on a $2 basis. Directors are in session for dividend action at Galion, O., today. The company manufactures steel dump bodies for automobile trucks and steel burial vaults.

Miscellaneous industrial issues were quiet but steady in the early dealings. Armstrong Cork was off a fraction, while Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt sold unchanged. Fuels were dull.

$3,500,000 6½% Cumulative Preferred Stock

100,000 Shares Common Stock

Preferred Stock is preferred as to dividends, and as to assets to the extent of $110 per share plus accrued dividends in the event of liquidation; dividends payable quarterly, cumulative from October 1, 1928; redeemable in whole or in part at any time upon 60 days' notice at $110 per share, plus accrued dividends. The Company agrees on or before February 1 in each year beginning with 1931 to acquire for retirement by redemption or purchase at not exceeding the redemption price, out of surplus or net profits after dividends on the Preferred Stock, at least 5% of the largest amount in par value of the Preferred Stock which shall ever have been issued and outstanding. The Preferred Stock is subject to existing preferred stocks called for redemption, with funds sufficient for the redemption thereof deposited, until April 1, 1929 or their prior retirement, holders of all except not more than $1,000,000 par value having already agreed to surrender their shares for immediate retirement or reclassification.

Mr. A. Lincoln Filene, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Wm. Filene's Sons Company, has summarized in part his letter regarding the Company as follows. Copies of this letter may be had from the undersigned upon request.

BUSINESS

"Wm. Filene's Sons Company, through its main store in Boston and its ten branch stores and shops in other localities in New England, is engaged in the retailing of clothing and accessories for men, women and children. The business, although thus specialized, ranks second in size among the retail department store enterprises of New England, being in my belief one of the largest, if not the largest, of its kind in the country. The success of the business, in my opinion, has been due to the faithful execution of policies long established and basically sound.

In 1856, my father, William Filene, the founder of the business, opened a store in Salem, Mass., and in 1881 a store in Boston. In 1901 this business was taken over by my brother, Edward A. Filene, and myself, under the firm name of William Filene and Sons.

In September 1912 the store moved into a new building, at the corner of Washington and Summer Streets, Boston, especially designed for the business, covering about half of a city block and having eight stories and three basements. At the same time new merchandise departments, including complete men's shops, were added. The result of this step was an increase of over 75% in business during the first year, followed by a continued growth which made subsequent enlargements necessary during ensuing years, until the store now ranks with the larger stores of the country. During the last ten years, small branch shops have been opened in nine other localities in New England, and during the current year a three-story and basement store in Worcester, Mass.

EARNINGS AND ASSETS

The net sales of the Company, and its net profits after deducting all charges including depreciation and after Federal income taxes at the rate of 12% in lieu of Federal income and capital stock taxes actually paid, as certified by Herbert F. French Company, Public Accountants and Auditors, were as follows:

Year Ending January 31	Net Sales	Net Profits as above	Times Pfd. Div. Req. Earned	Per Share Common
1925	$25,723,908	$1,103,993	3.0	$1.47
1926	26,299,753	1,191,073	3.2	1.65
1927	28,473,565	1,861,176	5.1	2.99
1928	30,372,457	2,064,291	5.6	3.39

The balance sheet of Wm. Filene's Sons Company as at January 31, 1928, after giving effect as of that date to the recapitalization of the Company and the sale of certain shares of Preferred Stock, as certified by Herbert F. French Company, shows net tangible assets of $10,415,614 or over $185 per share of Preferred Stock presently to be outstanding. As shown by this balance sheet, current assets amounted to $9,004,783 compared to current liabilities of $1,270,477, a ratio of over 7 to 1, and cash alone was over $370,000 in excess of all liabilities other than capital stock and surplus.

MANAGEMENT

The officers of the Company, in addition to myself as Treasurer and Chairman of the Board of Directors, are Mr. Edward A. Filene, President, Mr. Edward J. Frost, Vice-President, and Mr. Louis E. Kirstein, Vice-President. The responsibility for the management will remain in the hands of the officers who have heretofore actively conducted the business."

The Company has agreed to make application to list both the Preferred Stock and the Common Stock on the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges.

Preferred Stock—$104.50 Per Share and Accrued Dividend

Common Stock—$38 Per Share

This offering is made in all respects, when, as and if issued and delivered to and accepted by us and subject to the approval of our counsel. We reserve the right to reject any and all subscriptions in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount applied for, and to close the subscription books at any time without notice. It is expected that delivery of temporary stock certificates or of interim receipts will be made on or about October 11, 1928, at the office of Lehman Brothers, 16 William Street, New York, N. Y., against payment therefor in New York funds.

Get Away With 'Murder' And Make Us Like It

The Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company, not only is "getting away with murder," to employ a modern expression, but it seems bent on "making us like it," to further extend the idiom. A. W. Robertson, president of the 'bus company as well as the Philadelphia Company, of which the Motor Coach Company is a subsidiary, says the 25-cent coach fare is for the best interest of the community and the Philadelphia Company.

In the matter of "interest" he certainly is wrong about the community and it seems evident that he is in error about his company. Surely Mr. Robertson cannot seriously think it is in public interest for it to pay 25 cents for a service that is duplicated and exceeded elsewhere for a dime and is duplicated right in Pittsburgh by an independent company for 15 cents. As to company interest, a representative of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, who has been making a study of 'bus service in other cities, has shown that the 10-cent fare elsewhere has developed a business giving the operators ample profit.

If Mr. Robertson really thinks it is for the best interest of his company to make a charge here that, in all fairness, seems grossly unreasonable, he has a right to his own opinion, but he really assumes too much when he says the overchange also is to the best interest of the community. Good will of the public, say nothing of justice, evidently is deemed of no value as a company asset by Mr. Robertson. This seems short-sighted, in face of the evidence that in other cities earnings per mile, based on a lower rate, average about the same as in Pittsburgh.

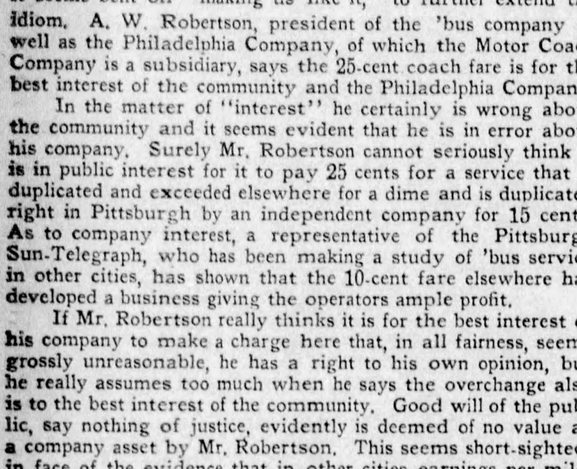
If Mr. Robertson's statements in defense of the outrageous 'bus fare had not been demolished, one by one, by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's investigation, there might be some excuse for his attitude.

After all, Mr. Robertson and the Philadelphia Company are hardly in a position to flout public opinion here. The street car fares are comparatively very high, 'bus rates are out of all reason, gas rates have not been going down, by any means.

And Mr. Robertson is certainly intelligent enough to know that, after all, the people of the community control the destinies of all the local public service companies. Failure to give satisfactory service at fair rates may presage disaster.

An Important Document

What Will Be Its Power?



SOLEMN SIGNATURES. HOW MUCH MEANING?

Here you see, rather dimly, a reproduction of the last pages of the peace pact signed in Paris.

The greatest nations of the world, through their plenipotentiaries, signed this agreement, decorated with many seals, pledging themselves to renounce war.

That pact of peace is supposed to be an agreement among the Powers of the world FOREVER abolishing war as a means of settling misunderstandings between nations.

Many will say that is impossible, forgetting that only a little while ago men in this country settled their personal quarrels by duels, killing each other.

One of our greatest statesmen, Alexander Hamilton, in the early days of the Republic was killed in a duel across the Hudson River, in Hoboken.

Men have now agreed in America and Great Britain that they must not settle quarrels on the "field of honor," but must go to court.

It should not be impossible for nations to reach the same agreement, but what seems RIGHT is not always DONE.

Men knew that slavery was wrong long before it was abolished.

Men knew, long ago, that settling quarrels by the duel was stupid. Cardinal Richelieu, great Prime Minister of France, endeavored to stop duelling 300 years ago, but the duelling went on.

However, war now actually means RENUNCIATION of wholesale EXTERMINATION.

France, tomorrow, with her fighting fleet of 5,000 airplanes plus the horrible gas and explosives produced by modern chemistry, could destroy London in a few hours, and wipe out the lives of millions of Britishers.

What France could do to Britain, Britain could do to Paris and France.

It is not conceivable that under such conditions war should endure. Let us hope, therefore, that the signatures on this peace pact MEAN something.

At the end, before the signatures, are written these words: "IN FAITH WHEREOF THE REPRESENTATIVE PLENIPOTENTIARIES HAVE SIGNED THIS TREATY."

Let us hope that "FAITH" will last, that great nations will refrain from waging war against each other, and unite to suppress and punish those who do make war, which should be classed as murder.

Bee in the Car

We Suggest a Bee Drill.

At Somerville, N. J., four went to a hospital, two expected to die, because of a bee that entered an automobile, in motion, causing the driver, Mrs. Loretta Knoller, to lose control of the machine.

Very serious accidents from the same cause have occurred repeatedly, sometimes the driver being stung, sometimes only frightened.

A "bee drill" for automobile drivers, training them to keep their presence of mind when a bee enters the car, might not be a bad idea. Imitation bees, with imitation buzz, could be used, and if a real bee came, the subconscious mind would help the driver. It would say to him, "Steady, remember the drill."

Mother Goose—Modern Version

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

In the Woods

IN AUTUMN, after much of the foliage has fallen, so that the forest vistas become more open, while the ground is carpeted with brown and yellow leaves, pleasant to walk upon and responding with crisp whispers to the footsteps, comes the best time to visit the woods. Americans are hardly aware of the advantage which they possess over the inhabitants of Western Europe in the greater attractiveness of our forests. In the American woods that I have known since boyhood the ground under the trees is far less impeded with tangled and troublesome undergrowth, and the air is drier and more pleasant than in the forests that I have seen abroad. I do not speak of the parks, where everything smacks too much of artificiality, nor of the state forests and plantations, where the trees are dragooned into ranks like hop poles, but of the woods that are left growing principally to supply firewood to the surrounding habitations and for other communal purposes. The growth of these woods, and their utilization, are under the supervision of wardens, who interfere with nature only by selecting each season the trees that are to be cut, while seeing that no malicious injury is done. Such woods are not comparable with ours in attraction to the lover of nature. They do not invite the stroller to come under their canopy and if, nevertheless, he goes, hopefully recalling the charms of an autumn forest in our Eastern States, he is disagreeably disappointed. The general aspect is gloomy. The dells are dank and choked with briars and the higher parts are far from offering the dry, clean, footways and delightful glades that are so common in American woods, especially where the country is a little hilly.

The kinds of trees are similar, but they differ in variety, appearance and habit. The European elm is often a mighty tree, but never to be compared in graceful majesty with the giants of New England and New York. They have birches, even white birches, but not like ours. Spruces, pines, oaks, beeches, maples, locusts, hornbeams, sycamores, yews, poplars, willows, cypresses, ashes, walnuts, chestnuts, hazels, and a great deal of miscellaneous undergrowth, abound, and some of the trees are magnificent specimens; but, assembled in woods, they never appear to me to retain the individual dignity that characterizes the larger trees in an American forest.

Our chattering, companionable, red squirrel, whose voice echoes in my ears while I write, bringing vividly upon the stage of memory the atmosphere, the colors, the sounds, and the restless life of our incomparable October woods, has his cousin in Europe—but what a cousin! A dullish red fluff of hair and tail, feeding on spruce cones, sneaking about in dense evergreen tops, with none of the chipping, rattling vivacity or fearless curiosity of his superior in America. And no gray squirrels—at least none that I have ever seen.

In the big dark woods around Dijon—some of which were sadly decimated during the World War to supply military necessities—there are still to be found wild boars, and they are still killed with the "couteau de chasse," or boar spear. I saw one brought out recently. An old friend of mine, lately deceased, had a long list of trophies of that kind. He had killed 215 wild boars in his lifetime.

But if we have no boars we have a plenty of fine game for hunters. It is not that, however, which constitutes the true lure of the woods. It is the life of the trees and the inhabitants of the trees; it is the stimulation derived from close contact with unspoiled nature; perchance it is fundamentally an inheritance of memory from far-off ages when ours, too, was a tree-dwelling race.

Compensation

MUSICIANS were the first to be scared by the "talkies." They had visions of the displacement of orchestras, organists and pianists in moving picture houses when the reel brought its own music.

Now the alarm is spreading to talking actors, who fear they will not get paid a fair return when one production can be duplicated in every city and village.

Let us hope that in each instance the dread will prove exaggerated. New conveniences sometimes cause displacements, but progress always finds a way to recompense the worthy.

Complacence

So this is one of those periods when you feel pretty good over the success you have attained.

Your greatest joy is thinking what you have, and what you have accomplished.

The person who appreciates and praises you wins your approbation.

You have begun to think you are of a superior grade of clay.

You consider yourself a really big man.

Others should respect and pay you even greater homage than they do.

You are self-satisfied and complacent.

What you have done is glory enough for you.

Others, who have been less successful, you look upon as deficient in some way.

But you might be a far greater success, if you were not so satisfied.

To continue to exert yourself would give you a lot more pleasure and far more lasting satisfaction.

To keep on exerting yourself and giving to others the help which your additional efforts might permit would be a reward in itself beyond expression.

You may be naturally endowed with that which has put you where you are, but perhaps the other fellow has tried harder, without having your capacity.

The Greater Gift

I DO not ask too much of ease;
The ship that knows untroubled seas,
Fair skies and nothing more
Can never feel the keen delight
Of vessels that, in cruel fight,
Beat back to shore.

My prayer is for a rarer gift
Than calmly down the years to drift
As on a tranquil sea;
Instead I ask the strength to meet
The share of triumph or defeat
Life yet may bear to me.

However men may measure bliss,
There is no greater gift than this
In all joy's shining sum,
This power that, dauntless, faces storm,
This force that nerves the righteous arm,
The strength to overcome!

Isn't It So?

Great Passages from the Bible

The Book of Jonah

Chapter IV—Jonah and the Gourd.

BUT it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

And he prayed unto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I fled before unto Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest three of the evil.

Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.

Then said the Lord, Doest thou well to be angry?

So Jonah went out of the city and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.

And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceedingly glad of the gourd.

But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.

And it came to pass, when the sun did arise, that God prepared a vehement east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wished in himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, even unto death.

Then said the Lord, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night:

And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

Tales that are Told

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

SOME of these dads are getting awful puzzled about the younger generation. If a dad has got white sidewhiskers and a double chin, and a job in a big bank, you can't expect him to understand the carryings on of these here young people that has been going to the movies for the last ten years.

Well, it was that kind of a dad that started talking to his daughter at breakfast one morning. He says, "See here, Betty, how comes it I find you necking on the porch with this here DeValle boy?"

Betty didn't say a word, but just kept on eating her grapefruit.

"I am talking about last night," her dad says, putting down his knife and fork pretty hard. "I find you out here on the porch in the dark with this here loafer I am speaking about! How comes it, I say again?"

Betty seen she couldn't keep on eating grapefruit forever. So she says, "How comes it, dad? Why, I reckon it's on account of your insomnia that keeps you walking around at night that way."

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Thoughts while strolling: Nothing can become so obsolete as a hotel. A man in full evening dress at noon. That's staying out. Edwin Balmer, editor of the Red Book. The traffic tower windows need washing. Dilapidated auto with card: "Any price over $10 and I'm yours."

Something wholesome looking about a minister or a priest. John K. Winkler, who wrote the book, "Hearst." Rarely see widow's bonnets any more. Policemen who always twirl their whistles. A sad-eyed Great Dane in a rumble seat. A soft drink saloon with swinging doors and a sawdust floor.

A good savings bank motto: "Save First—Then Buy." So few do it that way. Fewer Chinese laundries these days. Nothing makes a man look so disheveled as a tie band slipping up over his collar. George Jean Nathan, a Ft. Wayne, Ind., boy who made good in the city.

The limousine trade at delicatessen shops. What's become of Turnverien Halls? Those red-faced women with British accents and mannish walks you always find at a tea. Lew Field's son Herbert. The prettiest girls in a New York department store are found at the glove counter.

Harry Frezee. And Edgar Selwyn. The Negro cabman who wears a rabbit's foot in his hatband. The spookey desolation of a building before it is turned over to wreckers. Why are there no "haunted" houses in cities? Those calliope motor horns wailing like lost souls.

Seems to be a slump in jazz orchestras. The Bowery hotel clerk who made a killing on a long shot and is spending it on Broadway. Sign: "Expert Nail Bleaching." What in the world is that? And a window full of tadpoles with a sign: "The tadpole reminds us." Of what, for instance?

That beautiful actress who is always chewing gum. And on the stage she has a broad A. Pretty tea room waitresses in printed gowns. Ray Goetz whose office was decorated by Urban and who has fresh coffee on tap for visitors.

There used to be a daily period in small town life when motion seemed suddenly to suspend. Sometimes it was around noon, but generally as dusk was falling. Main street would be deserted, the blacksmith's hammer stilled and even the howl of a dog sounded like some unholy thing.

The whole village poised in a sort of reverential awe and then as suddenly resumed its accustomed tempo. I wondered about this mysterious hush in my formative days. I don't pretend to understand it now. But to me it symbolizes the vast difference between the city and the village.

The city never halts for a second in its unceasing grind but plunges madly on. There is always that turbulent roar and helter-skelter. It is the village only that comes to a full stop, takes time for a fresh breath and a little introspection.

* * *

In my many years in New York I have never seen a man or woman enjoying the relaxing comfort of a rocking chair. In fact, at the moment I cannot recall ever seeing a rocking chair in a New York home. A rocking chair, in case you don't know, is a thing you knock your shins on.

A westerner decided he wanted the big home of a New Yorker down on Long Island. He asked the price and was told it was $250,000. He agreed to pay that and was making out the check when the New Yorker backed down. Several days later the westerner went to a bank, secured $250,000 in cash and carried it in a grip to the owner of the home. The sight of so much money in cash resulted in a rising temperature and quick sale.

In like manner, gambling houses prefer to sell chips instead of having patrons play with actual money. A gambler does not worry so much when he sees chips disappear, but when it is actual money he is likely to have a chill and call his carriage.

"Do you New Yorkers," inquires B. H. of Jacksonville, Fla., "ever wear anything but silk hats to the theater?" Mercy no. We would just as soon think of going around on holidays without badges or flag emblems.

A Screw Loose

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is always an element of chance in every contest.

It is always worthwhile to be a presidential candidate, for your opponent may die. It is a good risk to fight the champion of the world, for he may sprain his wrist.

The Greeks used to worship the god of chance and no one can deny that luck has something to do with every victory. Success is not all due to luck, yet it is partly due to it.

When Capt. Courtney and his three companions attempted to fly across the ocean they broke down and were rescued at sea. Courtney attributed his breakdown to bad luck. Something went wrong with the machinery.

"It was a bit of stupid luck," he said, "to have that bit of copper pipe, part of the fuel feed lines, break the way it did. It was that which started the fire, and it was, of course, something that no one could foresee and guard against. Had the pipe not broken, we would have reached Newfoundland very easily, as our fuel consumption had been lower than we estimated before the start."

Still it is remarkable that Lindberg had no bad luck. It looks as if, in addition to his personal qualifications, he was rightly named "Lucky Lindy."

There is an element of chance in every enterprise. Business men recognize it.

The ability to succeed consists largely of taking into account one's possible defeats and preparing for them.

There is a good deal also in having the sure hand and quick eye that can readily take advantage of disaster. If a man will not lose heart, but will immediately acknowledge his defeat and go ahead with his plans, that is if he quickly adapts himself to the unforeseen, luck has a way of favoring him.

Almost all successful men do not fail to give chance credit for the large part of their success. No man can succeed unless in some measure he is favored by the high gods.

It is the one who can quickly adjust himself, and rearrange his program, whatever may happen, that is the most liable to succeed.

Do not be discouraged, therefore, if something happens unforeseen or if there is temporary defeat. The main thing is to have an undaunted spirit and to go on in spite of temporary defeat.

Napoleon is said to have believed in his star, which was just another name perhaps for his indomitable will.

OH, THESE WOMEN

By LEOLA ALLARD.

GANNA WALSKA declares she is a modern wife, living an ocean away from her husband, Harold McCormick. So just because she visits him she should not be made to pay this country, which she does not choose to adopt, any duty on her gems and clothes. Of course its only a matter of a couple of million dollars.

You can bet your last dollar that if the duty must be paid, the lovely Ganna will convince America of one thing—which most of it already knows—that it is the women who pay, and pay, and pay.

Four women, led by Helen Davis, of Washington, are to drive Miss Davis' car across the continent, in search of husbands. Miss Davis asks the other girls to have $200 each to defray expenses, and she wants a husband who is brunette, 40 and has at least $5,000 so that she can educate her little brother. Oh yes—the man must have appeal also. She wouldn't marry the King of England unless he appealed to her.

And what does this man get out of it? A chance to support somebody's little brother. What does he expect for only $5,000?

A man on the West Coast died the other day, and left his life savings to an elderly couple who had made him comfortable, and invited him to eat "nice home cooked meals."

There wouldn't be so many will contests if wives would make their attacks earlier, and do it with home made pies and nice hot biscuits.

New York now has a new board of education rule, that teachers must be more than 60 inches high. The girls at Hunter College protest and say that stature and intelligence have no relation and that small women can command discipline as well as tall girls.

It would be interesting to hear from some tall men who are married to little women, and who, when they ask for roast beef, are given codfish cakes.

The Rev. Daniel Stevens, of San Francisco, says that the way to be happy in your home is to have all who live there busy. Toil and happiness are synonymous, he thinks.

But Peggy Joyce is happy. She has twin beds in her room, and when the maid is making one she crawls over into the other, and when the maid makes the other she crawls back into the first one. It is beauty rest. And then she has someone come every day to do her hair and her massage, and manicure her nails, and the men adore her. That's what makes most women happy—adoration. NOT work.

From figures sent by 38 states to the Woman's Bureau in Washington, there are at least 160,000 babies expected this fall. This doesn't figure the richer classes who do not have to visit mothers' bureaus for medical help. Sounds like a bumper crop doesn't it?

Looks as if the babies might outnumber the pet dogs after a while—even in New York.
